Conferees Make New Attempt At OPA Agreement

House-Senate Conferees Continue Effort On Bill Restoring Controls

BARKLEY DECLARES "IT'S NOT HOPELESS"

WASHINGTON, July 20.—(INS)—House-senate conferees on the OPA bill met today for the fourth successive day with "fair" hopes of reaching agreement on legislation restoring price and rent controls.

Hours of discussion brought from Senate Majority Leader Barkley of Ky., the cautious comment that "It's possible we can work out something; it's not hopeless."

Conference Reconvenes

The conference reconvened with the seven House conferees still insisting that Senate amendments barring future price controls on basic foods and other commodities be eliminated and that the Senate formula boosting manufacturers' prices be modified to eliminate OPA discretionary powers to deny price rises.

Still a basis of discussion when the meeting resumed was a suggested compromise on the decontrol amendments proposed by a subcommittee composed of Sens. Radcliffe (D-Md.), Taft (R-Ohio), and Tobey (R-N.H.).

The compromise would eliminate price controls on livestock and meat, and on the marketing of poultry, eggs, cottonseed, soy beans, milk, petroleum, grains and leaf tobacco.

Could Restore Controls

However controls could be restored after producers had sold the raw product provided OPA allowed a price ceiling which included raw (Continued on Page Two)

PA NEW OBSERVES

Announcement from the Post Office Department, reveals that a new three cent stamp will be issued on August 10, to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the Smithsonian Institution in Washington. The stamp will be maroon-colored, in special delivery size.

In a report today from J. E. Brest of Moravia, he says that while other garden owners were looking for silk on their corn, he had corn to eat from his garden the other day. It wasn't quite ready, so they picked some more yesterday and had them for dinner. Brest says these were ripe and tasted very good.

Numerous traffic lanes were noted on downtown street on Friday afternoon and today, due to the fact that double parking was blocking movement of traffic.

Rains during the night were tantalizing proves of the rain that is really needed to help crops. Pa. News is told. Lawns around the city are badly burned out, and in need of heavy rains.

Premature Blast Cause In Bikini Flash Bomb Sought

ABOARD USS MT. McKinley, Bikini, July 20.—(INS)—Vice Adm. W. H. P. Blandy said today he plans a communications rehearsal for next week's underwater atomic test in the hope of eliminating the stray radio signal which touched off a flash bomb prematurely yesterday.

The operation crossroads chief said it had been determined that a stray radio signal was responsible for the incident in yesterday's "William Day" rehearsal instead of a short circuit caused by rain as was first conjectured. Blandy added: "The finger of suspicion points at the Mt. McKinley."

Some Physical Laws May Now Need Revision

The scientist anticipates that it will take nearly two years to complete studies of the material he gathered but added: "We got something worthwhile."

Five recorded measurements of the blast by means of six spectrograph—special type cameras—from a plane 12 miles off the target at an altitude of 12,000 feet.

Heirens May Be Preparing For Crime Statement

CHICAGO, July 20.—(INS)—A two-hour secret conference between William Heirens, 17-year-old suspect in three ghastly murders, and his defense counsel gave rise today to the belief that the prisoner was ready to make an important statement on the crimes.

Heirens' attorneys, John Coghlan, his brother, Mal, and Roland Towle, took part yesterday in a whispered conference with the University of Chicago student in a corner of Cook County jail hospital where the youth is a prisoner.

Republishers To Meet August 5

Republishers of the county will gather in The Cathedral on Monday night, August 5, when a dinner-dinner will be held with Attorney General James H. Duff, Republican nominee for governor, as the principal speaker.

County Treasurer Frank W. Hill has been named the general chairman of the dinner meeting and is appointing chairmen of various committees. While the nucleus of the dinner crowd will be the county committee members, an effort is being made to augment this group with young Republicans from each precinct, in addition to the other party members who wish to attend.

In addition to Attorney General Duff there will be other figures of the Republican party in attendance. With the return of young men and women from service County Chairman Roger W. Rowland hopes to interest many of them in the Republican party and hopes that the dinner meeting will attract many of them.

Woman Suspect In Three State Lootings Is Held

NEW YORK, July 20.—(INS)—Mrs. Mollie Levin, 42, New York beauty parlor operator, was held by police as the "lady in red," the Greenwich witch, and "queen of the matinee mob," was held today as a suspect in lootings in three states.

While she was being grilled last night by police officials from Connecticut, New Jersey and Long Island, Mrs. Levin was identified by a butler and a maid as the stranger found wandering in the Montclair, N. J., home where gems worth $62,000 vanished.

Equal Rights Bill Loses In Senate

WASHINGTON, July 20.—(INS)—A proposal that the constitution be amended to give women equal rights with men under the law met with decisive failure in the senate today.

The vote—first in the history of the amendment—was 38 for and 25 against, failure by a wide margin to obtain the two-thirds majority necessary to carry a constitutional amendment through either house.

Economic Unity In Germany Is Sought By U. S.

Formal Effort Is Launched Before Allied Control Council By U. S.

BERLIN, July 20.—(INS)—The United States made a formal bid today for economic unity among the four occupation powers in Germany. Implementing the decision taken by Secretary of State James F. Byrnes at the recently concluded big four foreign ministers session in Paris, Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, U. S. commander in Europe, laid the matter before the allied control council.

"Economic Paralysis" will result if the present zonal system is continued. He invited the other three powers to cooperate with the United States in its plan for elimination of the airtight barriers in favor of economic unity.

The reaction of Britain, France and Russia was not available immediately but it is generally conceded that England and probably France will accept the United States invitation.

The attitude of Russia still remains a big question mark. "Would Improve Conditions" Gen. McNarney, in a formal statement to the council, told his (Continued on Page Two)

Girl Plunges To Her Death

Leaps From Eighth Floor Window Of Hotel In Worcester, Mass.

WORCESTER, Mass., July 20.—(INS)—An attractive 19-year-old girl identified by police as Eleanor Basinsky of Webster, plunged to death today from the eighth floor of the Hotel Sheraton screaming: "No! No! You can't do this to me."

Police took into custody Torpedoman's Mate First Class Clarence Richardson of Silver City, N. C., stationed at the submarine base at New London, Conn., and veteran of four years service in Pacific warfare. He was held on a charge of intoxication pending investigation of the death of the girl.

She was identified by laundry marks found in the hotel room the couple occupied. She had been working as an attendant at Webster hospital. She was released from Women's Reformatory in Framingham last April, being sentenced to the institution on a charge of being a delinquent and stubborn child.

Heirens Captor Makes Request

Wants Old Assignment Back, May Get Little More Than That, Is Report

CHICAGO, July 20.—(INS)—The traffic policeman whose upping arm with three flower pots resulted in the capture of William Heirens, Degan kidnapping suspect, today was promised the only reward he requested.

It was re-assignment to his old Loop corner. Police Commissioner John C. Prendergast called Traffic Policeman Abner T. Cunningham to his office and asked:

"What would you like for a reward?" Cunningham replied: "I'd like to get back to my old corner at Washington street and Wabash avenue."

Cunningham recently was assigned to duty at a corner further south. He explained he had made many friends at the earlier post. Prendergast said he would have his wish "and maybe a little more."

JEALOUS VET CLIPS WIFE'S HAIR

Gabriel Moreton, (left) 34, is haled into Philadelphia court by his wife, Mary (right) on the charge that he beat her and then clipped her hair because he thought she was "running around with other men while he was in the service."

Drunken Driving Cases Increasing

This year 1946 promises to be a record breaker in the court house. Instruments recorded, marriage licenses issued, all of them will reach new highs by the close of the year. Apparently it is also going to be a banner year for the number of persons arrested for driving while intoxicated.

Thus far in 1946 there have been 40 persons before the court on intoxicated charges and all 40 pleaded to the charge. In 1945 there were but 30 for the entire year and in 1944 there were 44. Oddly enough in 1936, 10 years ago, there were 51 cases.

During the war years rationing of gasoline undoubtedly kept the number of drunken drivers down. (Continued on Page Two)

Pauley Prepares To Make Report On Manchuria

WASHINGTON, July 20.—(INS)—Edwin W. Pauley, President Truman's reparations commissioner, prepared today to report to the chief executive on his mission to inquire into removal of Japanese property from Manchuria by the Russians.

Pauley, who returned to Washington Friday night after a 40,000-mile round-the-world air trip, expects to report to Mr. Truman within the next few days.

The reparations commissioner confirmed the removal of large amounts of Japanese property from Manchuria by Soviet forces.

Russia claims the Japanese property as "war booty," although the United States insists that it should be charged against the reparations that Japan must pay the Allied nations.

Pauley said he probably would hold a press conference after his report to the president to discuss his findings in detail.

Long-Life Serum Inventor Dies At Age Of Sixty-Five

LONDON, July 20.—(INS)—Dr. Alexander A. Bogomolets, 65, Soviet scientist who claimed a serum he discovered might prolong human life to 150 years, lies dead in Moscow today.

Radio Moscow announced Bogomolets' death.

Bogomolets' discovery was called ACS—antitumoral cytotoxic serum—and its efficiency was said to be based on man's taking normal care of himself after starting application of the serum at an early age.

BURGLARS MAKE TWO VISITS TO SAMI PERSON

PITTSBURGH, July 20.—(INS)—Burglars, like lightning, struck Edward Maund of Pittsburgh, twice but not in the same place, police today reported.

While he was waiting on a customer at his gasoline station, a thief made off with $38. About midnight when Maund reached into the rear seat of his automobile for a black bag containing $300, he was held up and the bag and $300 taken.

Calls Legislature For Rent Action

CHICAGO, July 20.—(INS)—Gov. Dwight Green today called a special session of the Illinois legislature for next Tuesday for the purpose of considering a moratorium on evictions and the freezing of residential rents in the state at June levels.

Live Wire Kills Young Man In Plaingrove Area

Francis Hartman, 27, Of Volant R. D. 1 Electrocutated In Field Today

Francis Hartman, 27, of R. D. 1, Volant, met instant death by electrocution at 10 o'clock this morning on the farm of Frank Brown, R. D. 3, Slippery Rock, on the edge of Plaingrove township.

Hartman, an employee on the farm, was shocking oats in the fields when he noticed a electric pole had fallen during a storm in the night and the wires had electrocuted a horse. It is believed Hartman went to investigate the dead animal and touched the live wire, causing his death. The wires carried 4,800 volts.

Brown, his employer, found him a few moments later, his right hand burned off and his side severely burned. The body was taken to the Cunningham funeral home in Leesburg.

Long Search For Missing Business Man Is Concluded

Body Of Brooklyn Man Is Found In Wreckage Of Plane In West

TACOMA, Wash., July 20.—(INS)—The long search for Sidney Matz, Brooklyn, N. Y., business executive, was ended today with the discovery of his body, pinned in the wreckage of his plane in the Cascade mountains of Washington.

Matz's body was discovered late yesterday. He had been missing since July 8 when he took off from the Ellensburg, Wash., airport en route to Seattle in a private plane.

At the same time, the search for Matz yielded the burned and weathered bodies of four airmen listed as missing in their army C-45 from Buckley Field, Colo., since Feb. 1943. Their shattered plane was found on Saddle mountain in the same vicinity.

The body of Matz, missing vice president of the Ex-Lax company, was wedged into his crumpled plane so that parties from McChord field abandoned it to return later with cutting torches.

Seek To Identify Thirteen Killed In Kansas Plane Crash

GOODLAND, Kan., July 20.—(INS)—Army officials from Lowry field, Denver, and the Topeka Army Air Base today were completing the difficult task of identifying ten passengers and three crew members killed in the crash of an Army C-47 transport near Goodland.

Investigators working at the scene of the crash reported that bodies of the 13 airmen were hurled several hundred yards by explosion of the transport plane as it plummeted to the ground during a severe thunderstorm.

Clothing of some of the men had been blown or burned off by the blast. Most of the passengers were said to be military personnel en route to West Coast installations.

PROVIDES FUND FOR DECORATING GRAVES OF DOGS

NEW YORK, July 20.—(INS)—The late Mrs. Cornelia D. Meserole, whose will awaits probate today in surrogate's court, provides $10,000 to decorate the graves of three dogs in a White Plains canine cemetery.

The will stipulates that the graves be adorned with coverlets of "small green trees in the winter, pansies in the spring and small flowers in the summer."

Mrs. Meserole bequeathed $100,000 to a daughter, Mrs. Cornelia E. Courtney, and $175,000 to a friend, Mrs. Ursula Faber.

Senate Probers Of 'War Profits' Have New Issue

Congressman May Silent On Subpoena To Testify At Inquiry Under Oath

CONGRESSMAN FROM WEST, NEW TARGET

WASHINGTON, July 20.—(INS)—The Mead committee "war profits" inquiry was marked today by a Republican member's request for investigation of an alleged $2500 payment to the secretary of Rep. John M. Coffee (D-Wash.), by a constituent contractor to whom the congressman expressed "deep gratitude."

Sen. Brewster (R-Me.) revealed he had turned over to Chairman Mead (D-N.Y.) copies of a cancelled check and two letters bearing on the 1941 incident at a committee session this week.

May Subpoenaed Brewster's disclosure came as the senate committee subpoenaed Rep. Andrew J. May (D-Ky.) to testify under oath Tuesday on his connection with the Garson munitions combine now under investigation.

The committee buttressed its subpoena with a verbal warning that if the house military chairman ignores this formal call, criminal action may be taken after congressional adjourns.

May accepted service of the subpoena with a short "no comment" to reporters.

Dramatic issuance of the subpoena was preceded by voluntary testimony of senate and house majority leaders Barkley (D-Ky.) and McCormack (D-Mass.) and Rep. Satorah (D-Ill.) in explanation of testimony concerning telephone calls to their offices from Washington headquarters of the munitions combine.

Cancelled Check Shown The copies which Brewster said he laid before the committee showed a cancelled check signed "Elvind Anderson," said to be a Tacoma, Wash., contractor, and made out to Paul A. Olson, identified as a Congressman.

Peace Treaty Drafts Secret Until July 29

WASHINGTON, July 20.—(INS)—Diplomatic observers today foresaw the possibility of many outbreaks of agitation throughout the western world prior to the meeting of the 21-power Paris peace conference.

They also anticipated an excited flurry of diplomatic maneuvering as various states seek to line up votes in support of their views on many controversial subjects.

For this reason, it was believed that, at Russian insistence, the "Big Four" have agreed not to publish the printed texts of the peace treaty drafts for Italy, Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria and Finland until the eve of the parties.

No Publication Before July 29 Word received at the State Department indicated that, although texts are now being distributed to (Continued on Page Two)

Gentility is something I admire in folks or dogs or animals of sorts. It never hurts a man in business or profession, and a little of it fits all right in sports. But when it comes to rain, don't take it gentle, let's have a rain that soaks things to the roots, that has the garden reveling in moisture, that soaks under your ankles and your boots. We had a little rain last night at midnight, another one and heavier would do; gentility is all right but not in raining—the weather's kind of sticky, eighty-two.

Recruiting For Europe Suspended

WASHINGTON, July 20.—(INS)—The War Department revealed today that recruiting has been suspended for the European and Mediterranean theaters.

This action was expected to be received favorably by potential volunteers. A spokesman pointed out that a "considerable majority" of recruits have requested to be stationed either in Europe or the Mediterranean.

He said that only personnel in six critical categories are being sent to Europe. These are high speed radio operators, medical technicians, repair men, telephone, stenographers and investigators.

It was emphasized that the suspension is temporary. The two theaters, favored by most GIs over the Pacific, were said to be at peak authorized strength.

Decreases Appeal

The action robs the army of an incentive for enlistments. All volunteers have been penalized their choice of overseas theater.

The army now has about 367,000 men in European and 28,000 in the Mediterranean.

This estimate of armed strength in the European and Mediterranean theaters conforms with the figures Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, army chief of staff, presented to congress last January.

The army spokesman asserted that the size of the army in those theaters now is "approximately" that.

Lt. Gen. Charles P. Hall, war department chief of organization and training, told newsmen at a recent conference that the European theater was "overstaffed" with American servicemen.

He made this statement in disclosing plans for increasing the period of training for replacements before they are sent to occupation forces from eight to 17 weeks.

Attends Funeral At White Clouds, Mich.

Rev. K. Melvin Taylor, pastor of St. Luke A. M. E. Zion church, with Estelle Brown, has returned from White Clouds, Michigan, where Mrs. Brown was called last Wednesday, due to the sudden death of her cousin, Miss Nettie E. Scott.

Rev. Taylor was appointed administrator of Miss Scott's estate. He will appear in his pulpit, Sunday.

Enjoy Your Garden Flowers While They Are With You

We are not in competition with your flower garden. Not by any means. Enjoy the beauty of your home grown blooms to the very full, for all too soon the blight of frost will take them from you.

When that day comes and your garden has given you its last bouquet, remember the joy they brought you. And also remember you can carry that joy on through the winter months with our hothouse flowers. Flowers should be enjoyed the year round.

pulses activate the cameras set up on Bikini lagoon to record the world's fifth atomic detonation. He said that if the cameras were started early by a stray radio impulse, valuable data would be lost.

The admiral emphasized once again that "simple impulses" could not possibly cause a premature explosion of the submerged atom bomb itself. He said the series of impulses used to detonate the bomb are much more complex than the method used to start cameras and touch off the flash bomb for better visibility.

The premature touching off of the flash was the second electronics mishap at Bikini. On July 17, when the atom bomb was dropped from a plane, a radio-controlled drone boat accidentally was activated and automatically lifted anchor and started away. The boat was recaptured without causing any damage.

Admiral Blandy said that weathermen report that a high pressure area is forming northwest of Bikini and they hope it may move in a southeasterly direction and push a so-called "inter-tropical front" southward. He said such a development would increase chances of good weather for "test bakers".

New Soviet Claims Made In Austria

VIENNA, July 20.—The Soviet Union was disclosed today to have handed a note to Austria claiming all property in East Austria obtained by the Germans in any manner, before or after the 1938 Anschluss.

The United States, which has announced its willingness to renounce all claims to reparations from Austria, had asserted that the Potsdam agreement permitted Russia to confiscate only property obtained legally after the Anschluss.

Reliable Austrian sources said the Russians were also claiming non-Austrian property expropriated by the Germans in their zone of occupation, including the 25 million dollar properties of the Socony-Vacuum Oil Company.

DRUNKEN DRIVING CASES INCREASING

although this theory doesn't pay out entirely when the 30 of 1945 is compared to the 40 of 1944.

It has been a long time since a court trial was held on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquors. For years now, with only rare exceptions, the person so charged has pleaded guilty and been sentenced quickly.

The sentence in Lawrence county is standard. For the first offense it invariably is a fine of $100 and costs, 30 days in the county jail, out in three days if the fine and costs are paid. This idea was first put into effect by Judge R. Lawrence Hildebrand back in the late '20's when he warned the public that driving while intoxicated would bring a fine and some jail detention in the event a conviction or plea was had.

In the case of second offenses, or where there has been property damage the fine is sometimes heavier and liquidation of the damages made a part of the sentence.

Gasoline and alcohol are not good mixers in Lawrence county. And attempting an alibi is old stuff to the court. They have heard all the alibis many times.

OUTBREAK IN LUZON

MANILA, July 20.—(INS)—Arrest of extremist leaders of the Huk-balahap peasant group was predicted today as at least 16 persons were killed and wounded in armed clashes in Central Luzon.

Provost Marshall General Col. Mariano Castaneda disclosed that prominent Huk leaders will be arrested within the next few days for direct responsibility for the continued lawlessness.

Girl Scout Camp Ends At Cascade

Two-Week Day Camp Completed; Established Camp Opens Later This Month

Girl Scout day camps at Cascade Park ended their two weeks of camp with an entertainment for visitors Friday afternoon.

Each unit had worked out its own program which it presented under its own direction. The older girls, the "Big Union" unit, dramatized an overnight hike which the group took this week, and the 11-to-12 year old "Squirrel" unit sang songs and enacted a skit, and the Brownies did some of the songs and folk dances which they had learned at camp.

Earlier in the day, the girls enjoyed the longest swimming period of the entire two weeks of camp. Older girls presented a diving demonstration and other groups took part in water races.

Miss Mildred Lusk, who was camp director of the day camp, will also be the director of the established camp.

USES Disqualifies 28 Compensation Claims During June

Claims for unemployment compensation of 28 persons were disqualified during June, according to a report from the U.S.E.S. office.

Nine of the persons quit jobs voluntarily, while two were disqualified because of misconduct. Four has refused to accept suitable work and five were not available when called.

Four servicemen were disqualified for SRA during the same period. One disqualification was for misconduct, two for failure to accept a suitable position and one for other reasons.

If a claimant refuses to accept a suitable position, he is disqualified for the remainder of the week during which he is called plus four calendar weeks. For the fifth week he must be "available," and his compensation starts again on the sixth week.

Campaign Contribution

TACOMA Wash., July 20.—(INS)—Rep. John M. Coffey (D., Wash.), acknowledged today that a constituent contractor's $2,500 check was paid to the representative's secretary in 1941.

However, Coffey insisted it was a contribution to his secretary's campaign for the Tacoma majority. Moreover, Coffey added, the department of justice had investigated and had "washed its hands" of the matter.

Coffey's statement followed revelation that Rep. Ralph Brewster (R., Me.) has asked the senatorial "war profits" investigation committee to probe the alleged payment.

German Rocket Test Premature Blast Studied

WHITE SAND, N. M., July 20.—(INS)—Army scientists were studying today the remnants of a German V-2 rocket which exploded prematurely after it was fired in the eighth such test at White Sands proving ground.

In the first failure of German vengeance weapons fired at the site, the rocket exploded 27 seconds after it was launched. Sight of the earth-shattering blast at approximately 25,000 feet was obscured by clouds from observers including Secretary of War Robert Patterson.

None was injured by fragments of the huge weapon which fell within a few thousand feet of the launching site.

Veteran Reporter Claimed By Death

HADDON HEIGHTS, N. J., July 20.—(INS)—Harry G. Proctor, veteran Philadelphia newspaperman, died at his Haddon Heights home today, just three weeks after he retired.

Proctor, 64, had been a newspaperman for 40 years, 36 of them with the Evening Bulletin. His death was attributed to an illness that became serious shortly after he retired.

Proctor was known both for his human interest stories and his accurate reporting of some of the nation's most sensational murder trials.

He is survived by his wife, the former Belle Hannum, of Media; a son, Donald B., who is a reporter on the Bulletin, and a sister, Mrs. Emma P. Smith, of Pittsburgh.

Reformed Church Tower Made Safe

Work on the tower of the Reformed Presbyterian church on Oak street has been completed. About two weeks ago a number of bricks fell from the upper part of the tower, and as a safety measure it was decided to have workmen remove the upper story.

In the wall of the upper story a bottle was found in which was a note with the following message: "This bottle was filled with Leslie House whiskey and drank by the bricklayer and the clerk of bricks, October 23, 1900."

One of the church chimneys, a tall, slender one, on the north side, which has taken a leaning position, is partly to be taken down and rebuilt. The scaffolding has already been erected.

the powers concerned, publication will not commence until July 29, when the meeting starts.

Some signs of political activity occurred even during the "Big Four" Paris meeting when the agreement on Trieste was announced. Agitation in Trieste has not yet quieted down, despite a show of Anglo-American naval might in the city's harbor.

It was believed that further agitation might occur in North Africa in view of the decisions on the Italian Colonies.

The nations affected by the treaties are expected also to make themselves heard as domestic regimes try to make political capital out of the treaties.

RESCUE 27 OF CREW

CAPE MAY, N. J., July 20.—(INS)—Twenty-seven crew members of the fishing vessel E. F. Macomber were rescued today after their 110-foot craft sank following a collision with the cargo ship Henry B. Brown.

Two crew members were treated for head injuries at Lewes, Del. The Coast Guard at Cape May Point received the SOS and dispatched the crash boat Gentian and a life boat.

The fishing boat was taken in tow but sank in shallow water one mile off Refuge Light, N. J. material, conversion or distribution costs, plus a reasonable profit.

In addition, an independent board could restore price controls at all stages in the food distribution process if prices went too high, supply became short, and reconrol was "practicable and enforceable."

Many revisions of this compromise were suggested, but no agreement was reached.

Three suggested compromises on the manufacturers' price formula also were before the conferees when they reconvened.

Taft proposed that the independent board be given authority to decide whether a price increase was warranted, while Barkley suggested it be left to the Civilian Production administration.

Barkley indicated that neither side wished to confess failure, he added, however, that if the deadlock could not be broken, the conferees would draw up a report inferring the House and Senate that an agreement could not be reached and asking for further instructions.

The House could then vote on the Senate decontrol amendments, the pricing formula and any other Senate amendment. If it agreed to them, the dispute would be over and the House conferees would return and accept the Senate amendments.

Pearl Harbor Probe Report Made Ready

WASHINGTON, July 20.—(INS)—The Pearl Harbor investigating committee will report to Congress late today on its findings of responsibility for the 1941 Jap sneak attack.

There will be two reports—the majority findings signed by eight members and a minority statement submitted by two members.

The reports will reveal the conclusions reached by the ten-member committee after 69 days of public hearings on the Pearl Harbor attack.

The three murders are the kidnapping and dismemberment killing of 6-year-old Suzanne Degnan, the "lipstick" murder of E-Wave Frances Brown, and the murder of a widow, Mrs. Josephine Ross.

Helrens' attorneys refused to comment on reports that their client would make a formal written confession.

They said the youth "is in good health and spirits" and denied another report that he is "cracking up" mentally.

Dessert-Bridge Honors Visitors From Florida

Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson, of East Moody avenue, was hostess at one of the most delightful mid-summer events when she entertained Friday afternoon at her home with a dessert-bridge for her houseguests. Mrs. Calvin A. West and Mrs. Francis Lafon, both of Orlando, Florida, and for Mrs. T. W. Phillips, Jr., of Butler.

Dessert was served buffet style at 2 o'clock in the billiard room and guests were seated at tables for four in the library on the east of the house.

During the afternoon, eight tables of contract bridge were in play with prizes awarded for high and low scores, and for keeno, also traveling and guest prizes were given.

In addition to the guests of honor, other out-of-town guests present were Mrs. H. H. Parker, of Tulsa, Okla., Mrs. Harold O. Berlin, of Knoxville, Mrs. Judith Jackson, of Clarksburg, W. Va., and Mrs. Herman Veeder, of Pittsburgh.

On a recent evening Mrs. Johnson with her guests Mrs. West and Mrs. Lafon, and Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Phillips, Jr. were entertained at a small intimate musicale given at her home by Sue Harvard, known in private life as Mrs. Herbert Newton Armstrong.

DANCE AT COUNTRY CLUB THIS EVENING

Indications are that the dinner-dance at the New Castle Country club this evening will be one of the midsummer season's most largely attended events.

Dinner at 7:30 o'clock will be preceded by the serving of hors d'oeuvres at 6 o'clock and followed by dancing to orchestra music to begin at 9 o'clock.

Ladies' day golf and luncheon-bridge Thursday at the club was a highly successful event.

In the morning lady golfers played golf, some nine-hole rounds, others the entire 18 holes.

Buffet luncheon was served at 1 o'clock and was followed by an exhibition and class for beginners by Bill Burke, golf pro.

During the afternoon six tables of contract bridge were in play.

Next ladies' golf-luncheon day will be Thursday, Aug. 1.

DEPT. 40 OF POTTERY PICNIC AT CASCADE

A picnic supper was enjoyed at the Cascade Park on Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock for the girls of the Shenango Pottery, Department 40, and their friends.

Swimming contests and rides were enjoyed by the 37 attending.

Social committee in charge of the success of the occasion were Misses Alyce Bartberger and Jane Hitchen.

FORMER CLUB HAS SHOWER FOR MEMBER

Members of the former Parlez-Vous club were entertained Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Paul Porteous, 235 West Moody avenue, at a shower in honor of Mrs. William G. French, who was recently married.

Lovely bouquets of garden flowers were placed about the living room. Games were a diversion during the evening and at the close refreshments were served on individual trays.

The guest of honor received a number of gifts for use in her home, 206 Boyles avenue.

Mrs. James Pierson and Mrs. Harry Shoaff were special guests and from out-of-town were Mrs. Eva W. Patterson, of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. Rose Allen, of Youngstown.

Weekend Visitors Arrive

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Golder, of Williamsport, have arrived to spend the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Golder, of 317 East Winter avenue, and with their sister, Mrs. Hugh Barnard and daughter, Nancy May, of Rome, N. Y., who are also visitors at the Golder home.

SNIEZEK-MROZEK WEDDING TODAY

This morning at 10 o'clock in Madonna church, at a lovely ceremony, Miss Wanda Sniezek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sniezek, of 10 Elmwood street, became the bride of Albert Mrozek, of Detroit, Mich., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mrozek, of 917 Hamilton avenue, Fairview.

Vows were exchanged in the presence of a large assembly of friends and relatives of the young couple before an illuminated altar where pink carnations trimmed the blue kneeling bench. Rev. Edward Pikulik officiated, using the single ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of white mousseline-de-soie with net neckline and full net skirt. Her veil of tulle fell entrain from orange blossoms at the crown, and she carried a bouquet of white gladioli and stephanotis. Her only jewelry was a lavalier.

Miss Helen Ryczak, as maid of honor, wore a blue marquisette gown and bridesmaid Miss Frances Boron, a pink lace and net gown. Both carried bouquets of mixed summer flowers. Junior bridesmaid Patty Sniezek, niece of the bride, wore aqua lace, and carried pink roses and white gladioli.

Edward Mrozek served his brother as best man and Edward Sniezek, nephew of the bride, was usher.

Following the ceremony, a breakfast and dinner was served in the church basement where a large tiered wedding cake centered the bride's table.

This evening there will be a reception in the K. Pulaski hall.

After a short honeymoon the couple will reside in Detroit, Mich.

Mrs. Mrozek has been employed in the county treasurer's office and Mr. Mrozek, discharged from army service after duty in the ETO, is employed at the Capco Steel company, Detroit.

FRIENDLY COUPLES HAVE LAWN PICNIC

Mr. and Mrs. George Hudson of the Edinburg road were pleasing hosts to the Friendly Couples class of the Central Presbyterian church Friday evening when 75 people, representing members and families of the class gathered on the lawn of the Hudson home for a basket picnic and social time.

At 6:30 o'clock the group partook of the delicious meal, after which they participated in such diversions as volley ball, badminton, croquet and horseshoe pitching.

Committee in charge of the outing was Mrs. Chester Shuler, Mrs. Ralph McConnell and Mrs. Emerson McGuire.

The class will meet again on Tuesday evening, August 6, at a place to be announced later.

ELLWOOD CHURCH SCENE OF WEDDING

Solemnized by nuptial high mass in the Blessed Virgin Mary church, Ellwood City, a pretty wedding ceremony united in marriage Miss Anna Teolis, of Todd avenue, Ellwood City, and Michael D'Amico, son of Mrs. Mary Rosati, of Cascade street, this city, on Monday morning, July 15.

Rev. Vincent Galliano officiated, assisted by Rev. Joseph Pernatuzzi and Rev. Stanislaus Joswiak. The bride's brother, Anthony Teolis, a student at St. Charles Seminary, Carthage, O., acted as sub-deacon.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, James Teolis, of Ellwood City. She had as attendants, Miss Mary Jane Russo, of Ellwood City, maid of honor, and bridesmaids, Miss Rita Rosati, of this city, Miss Helen Frisk and Miss Minnie DeRobbio, both of Ellwood.

Elle D'Amico, of Donora, was best man and ushers were Dominic Greco and Fred Frisk, of Ellwood, and Tony Codespote, of Wampum.

Supplementing the ceremony a wedding breakfast was given at the home of the bride's mother followed by dinner for 75 relatives at a suburban inn where there was also a reception in the evening with orchestra music for dancing.

The newlyweds left for a week's honeymoon in New York City. After Monday they will be at home in their newly furnished apartment in Ellwood City.

LOCAL RESIDENT WEDS IN MICHIGAN

Announcement was made of the marriage of Miss Kathryn June Matthews of Alpha, Mich., to Joseph A. Diana, Jr., son of Joseph A. Diana of 920 South Mill street, this city, which took place on June 26. The ceremony was performed in St. Mary's chapel in Ann Arbor, Mich., and Rev. Fr. Frank J. McPhillips, rector of the chapel, was in charge.

Miss Antoinette Diana of this city, aunt of the bridegroom, was maid of honor.

Louis A. Mettes of Alpha, Mich., cousin of the bride, was best man.

Following the ceremony and wedding breakfast the couple went to Chicago and later visited the bride's parents in Alpha.

Mrs. Diana, a graduate of the Alpha high school with the class of 1942, received her A. B. degree in journalism at the commencement exercises of the University of Michigan on June 22. The bridegroom, who graduated from the university in February, will enroll for work on his master's degree when the couple return to make their home in Ann Arbor. He holds an assistantship in the department of history at the university.

PARKED CAR BURNS

PHILADELPHIA, July 20.—(INS)—Joe Frattick thought himself a lucky man to have a car to park in front of his home last night, but this morning the picture—and the car—was quite changed.

He was awakened by fire engines, and on looking out of the window saw that his car was burning. The flames severely damaged the vehicle. A passerby called firemen.

but the flames had gained too much headway to save very much of the automobile. Cause of the fire was unknown.

Frattick lives at 5810 North New Second street.

Approximately 81,000 trout will be planted in Wyoming streams and lakes this fall by the Spouty Range Fish Propagation Association.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

"Potomac Fever"

Aids In Downfall

WASHINGTON, July 20.—He was once a fierce crusader for what he believed to be the right. He visited the Soviet Union in the early 20s and was denounced as a dangerous radical because he had the audacity actually to look at this proscribed experiment. He ran for vice president in 1924, with fighting Bob La Follette in the No. 1 place on the Progressive national ticket.

Today Sen. Burton K. Wheeler of Montana is a defeated candidate who talks nobly, if somewhat pathetically, about principle. He talked a great deal during his campaign about the "smear" that was being aimed at him.

Master Of Smear Technique
Maybe it was a deliberate and skillful "smear." But if it was, Sen. Wheeler should have recognized it, for in the past he has shown himself a master of the smear technique. In the critical months before the war, Wheeler first used the "shocker" about "bloughing" under every fourth American boy.

It was this kind of demagoguery that Wheeler stooped to in his attacks on Roosevelt's foreign policy. Recent investigation by the department of justice shows that many phrases such as "ploughing under every fourth American boy" originated in Germany with Nazi propagandists who studied ways and means of needling them into the American consciousness. While Wheeler's isolationism needed no buttressing from any foreign source, he had no need to use these phrases to encourage the Nazis to believe their divide-and-rule tactics would succeed.

Had "Potomac Fever"
One factor in Wheeler's downfall has been overlooked by those who are writing the post-mortem. That is the fact that he suffered from "Potomac fever," the ailment which in private conversation, calls "Potomac fever."

Potomac fever is a complicated disease with many symptoms. But perhaps its chief characteristic is an illusion of power and state-manship fostered by a comfortable, nation-wide existence in Washington. The longer most men stay in Washington, the more likely they are to succumb to what might be called the "marble-hall" illusion.

The victim tends to identify the sound of his own voice with the muffled voice of the people. He becomes more and more reluctant to leave the marble halls for dear old Budge, a senator with seniority and important committee chairmanships, he can find a host of flatterers and sycophants ready to assure him that his slightest words are wisdom to be set down on tablets of stone.

Few Trips Home
A whole generation has grown up in Montana since Wheeler came to Washington twenty-four years ago. The senator's trips back home were increasing infrequently. More often than not, he went to a mountain retreat in Glacier National Park, where constituents with annoying claims and complaints were few and far between.

He had become a fixture in Washington. One son is established in a successful law practice, with important corporation clients. The senator has become an ornament of Mrs. Evelyn Welsh McLean's drawing room and other such fancy gatherings. It's a long, long way from the McLean drawing room to a miner's shack in Butte, Mont. and sometimes even a man who once knew Butte will forget how great the distance is.

Contributing Cause
Potomac fever may well have been a contributing cause in the defeat of Minnesota's Sen. Henrik Shipstead and in the reelection of North Dakota's Gerald Nease, who went back home for a brief try at a comeback. Once the fever has really gripped its victim, he rarely recovers.

One of the few men who showed complete immunity to it was the late Sen. George Norris of Nebraska. Norris never forgot that he came from the plain people of America.

Some have thought it strange that Truman should have endorsed Wheeler. That act fitted perfectly into the president's code, in which loyalty to friends who have helped in the past is the first test. When Truman came to the senate, Wheeler, branded by the reform element in Missouri as "Pence-gast's messenger boy"—Wheeler befriended him. He helped the fledgling act a place on his interstate commerce committee, and he gave him a free hand in conducting a special railroad inquiry which was Truman's start toward national recognition.

On the level of presidential politics, this sort of loyalty is likely to lead to trouble. Loyalty to Edwin W. Pauley harmed the president. So also, his loyalty to Wheeler has done him no good. It will prove it more difficult for the successful Democratic candidate, Lefty Erickson, to win. And however the contest comes out this fall, Erickson is not likely to thank the president.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

I learned a valuable lesson from my wife today.
She took me shopping in Brookline.

Neighbors had told us that there wasn't a bit of butter to be had and no meat.
"What are we going to do?" I asked her. "I hate to eat when I am home. I eat in restaurants in New York all the time."

"No, I don't think we'll have to eat out," she said. "Why don't you come along with me? Let's see what we can do."

So we got into the car and went over to Carls. That is our combination meat market, grocery store and general emporium.
The place was crowded.

There were farmers and summer residents and local Brooklineers, all buying in their supplies for the weekend, all clamoring for meat and butter.
"Sorry," said Carl and Eddie and Walter, "no meat, no butter."

Some of them got a bit of Polish sausage. I shudder when I think of it. A few got a few slices of bacon. But no meat.

"Why do you let those people get ahead of you?" I asked my wife.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Are you concerned about the Russian attitude? Well, you should be. Some very interesting things must have taken place under the New Deal Administration between Britain, Russia and the United States that we know nothing about... and probably won't know much about until something drastic happens... which we hope and pray will not be too late for us to do something about. A very firm and steady hand must be used by the leaders of this government when dealing with Stalin and his few followers. If we continue to be pushed around... great advantage will be taken by Communist Russia.

While on the United States-Russian Occupation border... Central Germany... we had an interesting experience. One dark night an American Soldier Guard became confused while walking his post and evidently wandered into Russian territory. The report reads that the Russian Guards called halt... and the trespasser continued to move. Several shots were fired and the American Soldier fell dead. When our guard was not on his post when relief came a short time later, an investigation was conducted and it was found the soldier lay 200 feet inside the Russian border. We were denied the privilege of recovering the body... the Russians declared they would turn the body over to Commanding Officers of our units, only.

After considerable conferences a time and date was established... two o'clock the following afternoon. A small detachment of American Soldiers headed by several High Ranking Officers stepped up to the Border Posts and on the other side was a large delegation of Russian Soldiers... including two Field Marshalls. A band played... an American Flag laid over a very beautifully carved wooden casket... flowers were in evidence... and speeches that few of us understood were thrown around by the Russian Officers... Finally the body was handed across the border... we accepted in a very formal manner as was befitting the soldier, our friend.

What did this all mean... we didn't rightly know. However the Russians kept telling us through interpreters that they wanted pictures of the affair taken and sent back to the United States... They definitely wanted publicity.

The World and the Mud Puddles

(No. 9)

THE "ENGLISH" OF THE CONSTITUTION

The failure of the Articles of Confederation was because it aimed to provide a government for the States and not for the citizens of the States, and there was no power vested in Congress to enforce the States to comply. It gave Congress the power to tax the States, but the States paid no attention. The States made little or no effort to obey Congress. The fundamental weakness of Congress was its inability to enforce its decrees.

There was very little in the Articles of Confederation on the subject of the Judiciary, so the delegates to the Constitutional Convention provided for a Federal Supreme Court, giving to Congress the power to establish the inferior Courts.

There was not a strict line of demarcation expressed in the Articles of Confederation of the powers of Congress and the powers of the several States, so that when they came to frame the Constitution they provided for a Congress consisting of two Houses, a President with extraordinary powers and a Supreme Court.

The delegates constantly showed they were Englishmen. In a way they imitated the English set-up. Parliament was the prototype of Congress; the House of Commons was imitated in the House of Representatives; the House of Lords was imitated by setting up the Senate; the High Court by the Supreme Court; the powers of the President and his Cabinet, although the Cabinet was not mentioned in the Constitution except in Article II, Section 2, where it says: "He may require the opinion, in writing, of the principal officer in each of the Executive Departments upon subjects relating to the duties of their respective offices."

In the matter of the executive and his powers, no such office as that of President of the United States was in evidence at the time of the Convention. It was a new position which the delegates were creating. The Presidency obviously, was modeled after the Governor of the individual States and not the President was to be the head of the thirteen States. When they discussed this part of the Constitution, the members of the Convention evidently thought they were establishing something like a Monarchy. As Randolph said the people would see "the form at least of a little monarchy."

When the Convention was over, a woman asked Franklin: "Well, Doctor, what have we got, a Republic or a Monarchy?" A Republic, replied Franklin. "If you can keep it." While Roosevelt was being elected time after time, we were doubting whether or not we were keeping it.

There was one member of the Convention who gave evidence that he, at least, showed the desire of establishing a Monarchy in the United States. That man was Alexander Hamilton. All of his ideas were aristocratic notwithstanding that Virginia had abolished the law of primogeniture and had established against granting any title of nobility within the Colony. Hamilton had an idea in the back of his mind which showed itself on several occasions, while he remained in the Convention after his two associates from New York had left, of making the Senate exactly what it was in the Mother Country—the House of Lords. It indicates something of the concept of the office of President prevailing at the time that Washington when he became President is said to have preferred the title, "His High Mightiness, the President of the United States, and the Protector of their liberties."

Once the argument in the Convention was very heated over the question of how many representatives each of the States should have in Congress and when during deliberations on this subject, feeling was running high and at times it seemed that the Convention in default of any satisfactory solution was about to adjourn, Franklin proposed that each delegate be the assistance of Heaven be held in the Assembly every morning. It is a tradition that Hamilton opposed this motion. The delegates were evidently afraid of the impression which would be created outside if it were suspected that there were deceptions in the Convention and Franklin's motion was not put to vote. There have been a great many churchmen in the United States that have raised the point that Almighty God is not mentioned in the Constitution. He is in the Declaration of Independence but is not mentioned in the Constitution.

MEAT AND POTATOES

In this country meat and potatoes seem to be the main stand-bys in our diet.
Long experience has found them to be dependable and satisfying. In spite of the great value of these two foods there are other things which should be added. Experience and experiment have shown that there are many things which are beneficial even in very small amounts and at long intervals.

It seems best to eat as great a variety of foods as possible in order to get enough of these minerals and vitamins.

Fresh fruits and vegetables seem to be especially valuable. Open air sunshine helps the good work along too.

Nature provides all the things we need. Sometimes we do not know how to get them or use them.
"The American people are in a serious state of fatigue," says a Government official. It is no wonder, with their carrying the weight around on their shoulders.—Bridgeport Post.

Washington Reports

Bilbo To Probably Stay As National Capital 'Mayor'
House Lags Behind, May Delay Adjournment
Atomic Legislation Measures Hard Hit

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Despite the vigorous campaign in the north-east press against him, Senator Bilbo—The Man—is coming back to Washington and the politically wise do not place much faith in reports that a move will be made to unseat him.

Senator Johnson (D-Colo.), chairman of the privileges and elections committee, has already announced that his committee will take immediate action on charges that Bilbo, by raising the "race hatred" issue, violated the law. Johnson notes that neither the Mississippi electorate have filed a complaint.

A Washington newspaper has started a campaign to have Bilbo replaced as chairman of the District of Columbia committee of the Senate, a post generally designated as that of "Mayor" of the District. But observers don't think this will happen—unless some political upheaval in the House should capture the Senate.

Incidentally, some realistic southern politicians believe that the campaign of certain columnists to oust Bilbo by the ballot did much to elect him. It is known that one candidate personally appealed to these writers to "lay off" Bilbo. He argued that their attacks only helped Bilbo's campaign by focusing attention on him in a state where outside interference is resented.

Capitol Hill observers see little chance of adjourning for the summer—and the coming campaign—until long after the proposed adjournment date of July 15. Breaking a long-time precedent, the delay will come in the House instead of the Senate.

The Senate is usually the chamber which finds it most difficult to tie up the loose ends and to stop talking. Now the House, already long delayed in action on the British loan, still has several other important bits of legislation to deal with.

Senate Majority Leader Alben Barkley had been hopeful of adjournment by the end of July. He plans to keep the Senate in session with a series of three-day recesses until the House concludes. House leaders, though, are now talking in terms of an August adjournment. More pessimistic members speak of September and Chairman of the House Rules committee dejectedly guesses on October.

Action on legislation for the control of atomic energy within the United States probably will be delayed for a series of atomic tomorrows.

Political observers see little or no chance that the House will take up the bill reported this week by its military affairs committee.

They point out that, even if the House acts, a conference fight looms in the Senate; a fight which may even spend itself in a legislative dead end street with the adjournment of the 75th Congress.

The Senate some time ago passed the McMahon bill, providing for outright civilian control of atomic energy. Then the House military affairs committee came along and shaved and sheared the measure to bits.

The House amended the bill so that the president is required to appoint at least one military official to the atomic energy commission. It made it possible for the chief executive to appoint two such commission members.

Then it rode roughshod over the Senate by empowering the Army and Navy to manufacture atomic weapons at the direction of the president.

Authoritative congressional sources are certain that the Senate will not take the House bill. And the House is virtually certain not to take the Senate bill.

The Parent Problem

HOW TO DEAL WITH A STUBBORN CHILD

From a mother in a small Canadian town, came this:

"Dear Dr. Myers—I read your column regularly and I feel I get a lot out of it. I would like some advice from you, so will enclose a stamped addressed envelope."

I have a girl eight years old who is very determined and a son five. I don't like her going out at night to different things down town as I feel she is too young. The neighbors children go, it seems, when they wish and she feels she should do it, too. She feels she is being done out of something. I want her to feel that I am trying to do what I think best for her. How can I show her that?

Misbehaves in Company

"She is also very bad, not doing what I ask her, especially when we have company. The other night when we had company I had to get cross to her before she would get ready for bed and then she got mad and went to bed crying. She is quite high-strung and when I go to whip her she gets just about blue in the face. I think, perhaps, I am inclined to nag at her, but it bothers me so much when she doesn't do what I ask her before I have to speak to her several times."

"I am so anxious for her to have respect for me and still feel close to me. My husband tells me I am soft with her."

The Psychologist's Reply

As I wrote her, you are right in your conviction but weak in your courage. Neither now nor for some years to come, should you allow that child to go down town at night unattended by a responsible adult and not very often. No matter what (Continued on Page Seven)

The State Police Say:—

Thirty-four persons were killed in Troop D area during the first four months of 1946 as compared to 18 killed during the corresponding period of 1945. Beaver county was the only county in the five counties embraced by Troop D to show a decrease in highway deaths in that period, having two less deaths than in 1945. Lawrence county showed an increase of one death. Mercer county an increase of five. Butler county an increase of six. Armstrong county an increase of six.

Formal Murder Charge Is Made In Bizarre Murder

Slaying Takes Place In Swimming Pool In Maryland Yesterday, Police Report

DEAL ISLAND, Md., July 20.—(INS)—Ross J. Abbott, 30-year-old war veteran, was formally charged with murder today for the bizarre slaying of Pansy Twigg, 20, during a swimming party yesterday.

State police said Abbott admitted shooting the girl four times with a .32 caliber pistol. He then turned the weapon on himself and is under treatment for a gunshot wound in the throat and chin.

Deputy Sheriff Woodland Jackson said Abbott suddenly became angered at Miss Twigg during a swimming party, opened fire on her, and shot her twice.

As the girl struggled in the water, Jackson said Abbott held her head under water, released her briefly, then shot her twice again before other members of the party could overpower him.

Abbott is being held in the Princess Anne jail. He is the son of William Abbott, a Deal Island waterman. He served with the army in Italy and was awarded the Purple Heart for wounds received in action.

Miss Twigg was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Twigg, of Deal Island.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

FETE CLUB MEMBERS

Young boys of the Vacation club were treated to one of the Y. M. C. A.'s famous bean dinners today at noon as a wind-up of their activities during the past two weeks.

During the classes the boys worked on many projects and received instruction in metals, wood, leather and plaster molding.

Next sessions of the club, with a new enrollment of boys, will be held from August 5 to August 17. David Gatrall, boys' work director, said.

The Rocky Mountains stretch from the hot deserts of New Mexico and Colorado to the Arctic.

FABLED RACE TO BE REENACTED IN MODERN VERSION

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 20.—(INS)—The fabled race between the tortoise and the hare will be reenacted Wednesday—a helicopter, the tortoise and a 200-mile-an-hour airliner the hare.

The race, it was announced today, will be sponsored by the United Aircraft Corp. and will be between Bridgeport and East Hartford, 51 miles away.

The test is designed to give a demonstration of the 85-mile-an-hour helicopter's time-saving possibilities in door-to-door deliveries.

PERSONAL MENTION

Miss Helen Keating of South Ray street has returned from a several day visit to Detroit, Mich.

Mrs. Jessie Reed, of 838 East Lutton street, has returned after a two weeks' visit with the family of Chester Reed, Dayton, O.

Mrs. William B. Gormly of 214 North Mercer street has improved sufficiently to return to her home from Jameson Memorial hospital.

C. E. Armstrong, of 5 West Garfield avenue, was admitted to Jameson Memorial hospital Friday for treatment for a stomach ailment.

Mrs. Thomas W. Johns and daughters, Grace and Anna of Canfield, Ohio, formerly of this city, were visitors in this city on Friday.

Ugo Tommello, West Clayton street, and William Monico, of North Liberty street, have departed for New York City, where they will visit with the former's brother, Charles, whom he has not seen for four years. Afterwards they will visit in Canada.

REPORT POLIO IS INCREASING

NEW YORK, July 20.—(INS)—The nation was warned today by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis that the incidence of polio has increased 34.6 per cent this far this year over the comparable 1945 period.

Dr. Hart Van Riper, foundation medical director, said the foundation has appropriated $75,000 and is sending trained personnel to fight the disease in Florida, Texas and Mississippi where the number of cases has shown a sharp increase.

W. C. T. U. AND L. T. L.

Frances Willard Union

An enjoyable picnic dinner was served by members of the Frances Willard W. C. T. U. Friday noon on the lawn of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Magill, Garfield avenue.

The meeting was opened by group singing and the Crusade Psalm and a scripture lesson. Mrs. Newbury gave a reading on "Temperance in Russia," followed by the prayers of Mrs. W. C. Wallace and Mrs. M. D. Allen. Reports were given by the department heads.

Mrs. J. C. Forrest reported five members lost by death during the year; Miss Anna Dadds, alcohol education director, reported three lessons at the Reformed Presbyterian vacation Bible school, two lessons at Third U. P. D.V.B.S., and a demonstration at the R. P. church entitled "The Quiz Kids"; a flag-negraph talk at the Lawrence county S. S. convention.

The following delegates were appointed to attend county convention of W. C. T. U.: Mrs. J. C. Pherson, Miss Laura Bell and Mrs. W. C. Wallace. Mrs. Alice McKillop and Mrs. Jennie Ray were named as auditors.

An election of officers resulted as follows: president, Miss Laura Bell; first vice president, Mrs. Frank Hanna; second vice president, Mrs. Alice McKillop; recording secretary, Mrs. T. W. Donaldson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. B. McClaugh; assistant secretary, Mrs. J. C. Pherson; treasurer, Miss Martha Dadds; assistant treasurer, Mrs. C. N. Moore; pianist, Miss Grace Eakin.

A program committee as follows was appointed: Mrs. C. N. Moore, Mrs. Alice McKillop, Miss Nancy McCaughy and Miss Anna Dadds.

A vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Magill and her committee, Mrs. J. C. Pherson, Mrs. D. R. Ballard, Mrs. John Lockhart, Mrs. Edward Masberry, Mrs. William Scott, Mrs. C. C. Coulthard and Miss Nancy McCaughy.

The group will assemble again on September 20 at the home of Mrs. Fred Donaldson, Highland Heights, No. August meeting.

East Brook Union

East Brook W. C. T. U. enjoyed its annual picnic, Thursday, at the home of Mrs. J. A. Young, with L. T. L. and W. R. R. as guests.

A delicious picnic dinner was served at noon to 25 at nicely arranged tables on the lawn.

Mrs. Marian Young assisted the hostess in serving. Games were the entertainment for the L. T. L. and W. R. R.

Mrs. George Patterson had charge of the business meeting when an election of officers ensued with the following results: president, Mrs. Scott Kirk; vice president, Mrs. William Walton; recording secretary, Mrs. Charles Black; treasurer, Mrs. Harry Kelley.

The group will meet on August 15, at the home of Jonathan Fenwick, with Mrs. Lillian Bradley as leader.

HERSHEY PERSONAL ESTATE $790,158.50

HARRISBURG, July 20.—(INS)—The late Milton S. Hershey, chocolate manufacturer and philanthropist, left a personal estate of $790,158.50, according to a partial account by executors on file today in Dauphin county court.

Hershey died October 13, 1945.

High Altitude Flight Is Started

Cosmic Ray To Be Studied On B-29 Flight To South America By Scientists

WASHINGTON, July 20.—(INS)—A B-29 Superfortress started a high altitude flight to South America today for studies of the cosmic ray, potentially a greater force for good or evil than atomic energy.

Army air forces scientists estimate that if the energy of the cosmic ray could be harnessed, it would be approximately 12,000 times more powerful than the energy particles released by the explosion of an atom bomb.

The AAF announced that its B-29 left Wilmington, O., on the first leg of a flight in which study will be made of cosmic ray effects on radio transmission, electronics, materials and human beings.

In the plane, converted into a "flying laboratory," AAF technicians and National Geographic society scientists will fly non-stop to Howard field, Canal Zone, at an altitude of 35,000 feet.

Operating southward as far as Peru, the AAF technicians will study the effects of the cosmic ray on equipment to be used in the army's guided missile program.

Drowning Toll Needlessly High Says Red Cross

Seven Thousand Drown Every Year Through Carelessness And Inability To Swim

When only 50 per cent of the people in the United States can swim at all, and only 10 per cent can swim well, it is not amazing that 7,000 people drown every year, the local Red Cross Water Safety Committee points out.

Most drownings occur during May, June, July and August, for it is during these months that 50 million Americans go swimming. In addition to the ones that drown, 50 times as many have near-drowning experiences every year.

Like most accidents, those in the water are generally preventable, resulting from ignorance of the ways of the water and how to handle one's self on it and in it. Learning to swim is both pleasant and easy, however, and Red Cross courses in swimming and lifesaving are becoming more and more common. Those who have already learned to swim have a few things to remember also: they can't start in on a long swim after not being in the water for a year, and they had better not plunge into a river without first finding out that the water is deep enough and is free from hidden stumps and rocks.

Swimming places should be guarded, and no one, no matter how good a swimmer, should swim alone. And if someone is unconscious after being pulled out of the water, don't wait for a doctor or a machine—get to work at once, giving the victim artificial respiration by the prone pressure method.

Use sense about your swimming, and have fun. It's the best of summer sports.

With New Castle Afro-Americans

Dr. J. C. Anderson, D.D., Ph.D., will minister Sunday morning at the Bethel A. M. E. church, North Green street, at 11 o'clock, and will hold the last quarterly conference of the conference year. Quarterly assessments and annual conference assessments are due.

Monday afternoon prayer-band will meet in the home of Mrs. Mary Davis, 803 West State street, on July 22 at 2 o'clock.

Special services will be held Sunday at 3:30 at the Church of God in Christ, Rev. H. W. Wheeler, choir and congregation will conduct the service. A short program will be given by James Morris, sponsor.

St. Luke's A. M. E. Zion church will give a missionary program on Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Devotionals will be in charge of Mrs. Barber and Mrs. Dillard. Young people's choir of the St. John's Holy church will furnish the music directed by Mrs. Eleanor Garstide. Talks will be given by presidents of the following churches: Union Baptist, Mrs. Katherine Eng; Bethel, Mrs. John Hawkins; Second Baptist, Miss Birdie Boyd. Solos will be given by Mrs. Hester Burris, Bernice Webber, Margaret Hawkins and Anna Campbell. Bertha Webber, Robert Robertson and Audrey Jackson will give piano selections and Mrs. Amy Callahan will give a reading.

Sunday school of the Mahoning Avenue Mission, 324 Mahoning avenue, is sponsoring a program in the mission at 3:30 o'clock, Sunday afternoon. There will be solos with short talks by Mrs. Blackwell and Brown of Farrell.

Scouts Ending Final Week At Camp Site Today

District Troop Members To Return
To City Following Campfire
Ceremony Tonight

Today winds up five weeks of life in the open for many Boy Scouts of the Lawrence County Council.

At a huge campfire ceremony tonight in the amphitheater of the camp the summer season will be brought officially to a close for this year.

This has been a thrilling week for the boys at the Slippery Rock retreat. Wednesday the Scouts were up and about early as they went on a hike looking for birds, under the leadership of Woodcraft Director J. Arthur Turk. In the afternoon, soccer took up much of the time, a sport that has proved very popular with the campers.

Hear Dracula Tale
In the evening, with the long shadows creeping in from the tall trees, the awestruck Scouts huddled in the darkness to hear the traditional reading of the horrendous tale of the vampires, "Dracula". The story, an hour and one half long was read by Nick Cassillo, and the young Scouts sat at rigid attention as the spine-tingling tale unfolded. A feature of the camp for years, this story of terror never fails to live in the memory of the Scouts as an unforgettable experience.

Thursday the Scouts devoted most of the day to advancement work and in the evening were treated to movies.

See Magician
Friday evening the boys were entertained by Professor Walter Biberich, German teacher from Westminister college and well-known magician and hypnotist. The popular entertainer gave a splendid demonstration of telekinesis and his hypnotic powers.

The afternoon was devoted to a big water carnival under the direction of waterfront director William Crowell.

The season which concludes today has been one of the most successful in the long history of the camp site. Study of nature has come in for its share of attention at the camp this year. A baby raccoon, named Oscar, has been the prize pet of the campers all season. The woodland creature and its baby brother were caught on the waterfront. The small "coon" made its escape the other evening when it dug its way from the box.

Catch Snake
A nest of five wrens has been carefully tended by the Scouts. The nest is inside the electric switchbox and Wednesday the brood broke through their shells and were begging for food.

Another first-hand study of the lives of the woodland inhabitants was enjoyed this week when Woodcraft Director Turk captured a black snake with a huge bulge in its middle. Under the handling of the director the reptile disgorged a baby muskrat.

Scouts can look back upon their time at camp with recurrent pleasure and not a little nostalgia. They can feel that they have done good, progressive work in the crafts and all their other projects. And they know now they have at last discovered the meaning of the true Scout life.

East Side Churches
Unite For Service

Savannah Methodist, Calvary Tabernacle, Grace Bible Church
United Sunday Evening

Sunday evening at 7:30, three churches of the eastern part of the city will unite for a service which will be held in the Calvary Gospel Tabernacle, Vogan street.

The churches uniting are the Savannah Methodist, Grace Bible church and the Calvary Tabernacle.

Special speaker on the occasion will be Tal McNutt, former G. I. who was instrumental in opening the Youth for Christ meetings in Tokyo, Japan.

Norman Clayton, of the Word of Life hour, from New York City, will join Mr. McNutt, Sunday evening, and will be soloist on the program.

Both Mr. McNutt and Mr. Clayton will be appearing in several of the local churches during the week.

Alliance Pastors At Camp Meeting

Special Speakers To Fill Pulpits Of Local Alliance Churches Of Area For Two Sundays

For the next two Sundays, the pulpits of the Christian and Missionary Alliance churches of this area will have visiting speakers, due to the fact that the pastors of several of the churches are in attendance at the annual camp meeting of the denomination at Mahanoy, Clearfield county, Pa., which began Friday evening and will continue through Sunday, July 28.

At the Hoover Heights Gospel Tabernacle, South New Castle, Rev. Enos Hess, missionary to Congo, Africa, will be both morning and evening speaker, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Francis C. Johannides.

At the Peoples Mission, Sampson street, Eugene Johnson and Joseph Proctor, lay members of the church will be bringing the addresses, Sunday morning and evening, in the absence of Rev. J. Edward Truman.

In the absence of Rev. J. H. Boon, who is on a month's vacation from the Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street, his son, Rev. Harold Boon, of Nyack, N. Y., will continue in the pulpit. Rev. Boon has announced that on Sunday morning he will speak on "The New Covenant" while in the evening, his topic is, "The New Birth".

Rev. L. H. VanHorn of the Castlewood Chapel with his family is attending the camp sessions and will have visiting speakers in his pulpit, Sunday.

Plan To Attend
Bible Institute
At Grove City

A number from Lawrence county will attend the Adult Bible Class Institute being sponsored by the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association that will be held at Grove City college the week-end of July 26-28.

The institute opens with the evening meal on Friday and closes with the evening meal on Sunday. Headquarters will be the Mary Anderson dormitory, whose facilities are ideal for housing both men and women, for serving meals and for providing meeting rooms for conferences and recreation. Registration fee is $2 and the board and room fee is $6. Total cost per person, $8. Board and room includes seven meals and two nights' lodging with bedding furnished.

The speakers are Dr. Charles M. Bond, Bucknell university; Dr. Margaret L. Cassidy, Philadelphia; Dr. F. L. Gibbs, director of Christian education in Allegheny county; Leo H. McKay, Sharon, and Adult Director Ira C. Sassaman.

Angelo expects to return to Hillsburg in six months.

Recent Bride Given Surprise Party

Friends and neighbors gathered on Thursday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell McConnell, 210 Pearson street, to give a surprise party.

While the group assembled Mr. McConnell took his wife for an auto ride, and upon their return Mrs. McConnell, a bride of recent date, was given a surprise party.

Games, music and chat were the evening's diversions.

A splendid lunch was served by Mrs. Sally Deegan and Mrs. George Huff.

The honored guest was given a miscellaneous shower.

Crusaders Picnic
At Hunt Residence

Members of the Crusaders Bible class of the Madison Avenue Christian church gathered at the place of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hunt, on Friday evening, for a picnic. There was a good attendance.

A mulligan game between selected teams was the main diversion of the evening, with Rev. Lynn Matlack's team being the victors.

The host and hostess served a delicious lunch on the lawn.

Next social meeting of the group will be Friday evening August 16.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

the neighbors do, you are responsible for your own child. Have no arguments about the matter at all. Just don't try to convince her with words. Twenty years hence she will realize you were right.

When you make a request of her in irregular situations, let her choose. No occasion then to repeat or to get angry if she does accede. But with things she must do, as going to bed, don't request. Just tell her once when she shall go to bed for the next six months.

Merely watch the clock. If she is in bed with lights off, one, two or five minutes late (as you have designated) once require her to sit in a chair where you can see her without any amusement for exactly 40 minutes. Should she not choose to go to bed then, let her sit there till she does. Next night do likewise, if necessary, and the next.

Later Than Young Brother
Be sure her bedtime is noticeably later than her younger brother's and that she has other privileges to indicate she is your big girl. See that he does not up her things and that you do not praise him often in her presence. Compliment her more often, honestly, and show her lots of affection. Attract her playmates to your home.

Please whip her no more, unless she would leave the chair when sent there for punishment before the announced time is up. Resolve never to repeat a command. Make your word good and try to boss as little as possible. Then you will nag less, she and you will vex each other less, and the way will be clear for more good times together, laying the grounds for her to love you more and more.

Also, train that girl to help you about the house, assigning her a few regular, daily jobs.

POLICE ARREST MAN CARRYING REVOLVER
Ralph Parady, Cherry street extension, was held in city jail today following a hearing in police court and was to be charged with violating the firearms act, if having been alleged he had a revolver in his pocket when arrested by Policemen Russo, Sierler and H. L. Richards in a Seventh ward case.

He was said to have taken the revolver, a German 32 calibre, from a neighbor's home.

Paul Tulane's will, which established Tulane university in New Orleans, forbids any campus activity on Sunday.

New Pastor At Bessemer Church

Rev. Fr. Michael F. Bonfield Assigned To St. Anthony's Church Pastorate

Pastorate of St. Anthony church, at Bessemer, has been filled by Rev. Father Michael F. Bonfield, who comes to the Bessemer church from the Holy Innocents church at Sheraden, near Pittsburgh. He is replacing Father Joseph Young who has gone to St. Anthony Reserve town, North Side, Pittsburgh.

Father Bonfield was born at Gortmore, Nenagh, Tipperary County, Ireland in 1893, son of John and Julia Bonfield. One of seven children Father Bonfield started in grade school at National school as it is known in Ireland at the age of four years. Entered high school at the Christian Brothers in the town of Nenagh at eleven years of age.

After graduating from St. Flannan's College at Ennis, Clare County, he went to St. Patrick's at Maynooth, Kildare county.

Came To U. S. In 1922
In 1914 he entered the National University at Dublin, as a student of Medicine, leaving there to see service in the Black and Tan War that raged from 1916 to 1922.

Rev. Bonfield came to this country in 1922 and entered the St. Vincent's Seminary at Latrobe, Pa., where he was ordained in 1926 by Bishop Boyle. Since then he has been consecutively an assistant in the following places in this Diocese: St. Pauls Cathedral, St. Joseph's at Coraopolis; Mercy Hospital, St. Mary's, St. John's at Uniontown; Holy Innocents, Connellsville; St. Stephen's, Hazewood; and Holy Innocents, Sheraden from where he graduated to his present charge at Bessemer.

House To Take Action On Atomic Energy Control

WASHINGTON, July 20.—(INS)—A Republican-Southern Democrat coalition was prepared to write its own atomic energy control legislation today as the Senate-passed McMahon bill came up for final House action.

Foes of the sharply modified civilian control measure were freely predicting success for a move to kill the bill by sending it back to committee, thus leaving atomic developments entirely in military hands.

The test was to come when the House turns from detailed work on the bill to consider it as a whole. Rep. Short (R) Mo. was prepared to submit a formal motion to the committee the measure to the military affairs committee.

To Pass Some Measure Speaker Rayburn (D) Tex., has asserted that the House would pass some atomic legislation, but other backers of the bill privately were more pessimistic.

Some 12 amendments radically changing the character of the McMahon bill as approved by the Senate were tentatively inserted by the House in two days of intensive debate.

These will be re-submitted for a roll-call vote but are expected to pass without difficulty. The most significant revisions were those strengthening the hand of the military in atomic control and giving private individuals the opportunity to take out patents on atomic developments.

The House overrode the pleas of those who pointed out that private patents were inconsistent with security requirements, and struck out provisionally a McMahon bill section which would give the government a virtual monopoly on atomic patents.

FOUND DEAD IN CREEK HARRISBURG, July 20.—(INS)—State police were investigating today the death of Albert Fritz, Jr., 41, of Lykens, who was found floating face down in a small creek in Potomac Valley, Dauphin county.

Dauphin County Coroner S. J. Roberts was slated to conduct an autopsy this afternoon.

McKeesport City Workers Refuse To Halt Strike

McKEESPORT, Pa., July 20.—(INS)—McKeesport municipal workers flatly rejected a proposal to return to work today while city officials checked the legality of borrowing sufficient funds to meet the demands of a wage increase.

Hotels, restaurants, business establishments and residents, meanwhile, clamored for immediate action to remove garbage and other refuse to ward off a threatening health menace.

As garbage and trash mounted higher and higher on curbs and streets, members of the city council were scheduled to meet again with Mayor Charles A. Kinkaid to work out an emergency measure for collection.

Tells Audience How War Surpluses Can Be Secured

Meeting At Court House On Friday Evening Centers On Disposal Of War Surplus Goods

Some idea of the immensity of the task of the War Assets Administration in the disposal of war surplus property was given to a group in the court house Friday evening, largely veterans, when B. Ben Rochius of the W. A. A. spoke.

The present speaker is about four months old, according to Mr. Rochius, and is the third group handling war surpluses. The government has billions of dollars worth of surplus goods which it wants to get distributed but it wants to do the job right. Mr. Rochius said. In the Cleveland district alone it is hoped to sell about two million dollars worth per week.

Mr. Rochius explained the mechanics of applying for surplus property, the necessity of following the regulations, the places where surpluses are located and the centers to which application may be made.

He came to New Castle at the invitation of the Greater New Castle association and was introduced by J. C. Wachtman, executive vice president of the GNCA. Following his talk he answered many questions and application blanks along with information sheets were distributed to those requesting them.

Enlistments May Eliminate Need Of Drafting Men

Such Is Hope Now Expressed By Congressman Short Of Missouri

WASHINGTON, July 20.—(INS)—Rep. Short (R) Mo., expressed hope today that the draft law would not be necessary to fulfill Army manpower requirements if voluntary enlistments continued at the present rate.

He pointed out that there were 62,000 voluntary enlistments into the Army during the month of June.

Short declared that, if voluntary enlistments continue at the June rate, the extended draft law may be used only as a "reserve" against the contingency that may drop below Army needs.

Despite Short's optimistic report, the Selective Service system has already announced a 25,000 call for draftees in September, at the conclusion of the present July-August induction "holiday".

Basis For Views Short based his view on an official report of enlistments in June—at a time when the temporary Selective Service extension laws in effect and 18 and 19-year-olds were exempted from induction.

He informed the House that during the four weeks of June, the Army had received volunteers totaling 11,745; 12,319; 13,094; and 25,326, respectively.

Army officials have estimated their needs during the coming 12 months at 40,000 men monthly to replace discharges and maintain the Army strength at totals ranging from 1,550,000 officers and men down to 1,070,000 as the year progresses.

Army spokesmen expressed doubt that the June enlistment figure could be considered typical of how American youth would react to the added inducements offered by the Army in the way of increased pay and extended educational privileges. The speaker said that at least a part of the high June enlistments resulted from the desires of youths to enter the armed forces at the end of high school and college terms.

They anticipated that enlistments would fall off during the current month and in succeeding months.

Strike Threatens Food Supply For London's Millions

More Than 3500 Handlers And Truckers On Strike At Major Food Depots

LONDON, July 20.—(INS)—Tons of fresh fruit, fish and vegetables piled up today at rail depots in the so-called "tomato-rebellion" threat to stall distribution of food for Greater London's eight million people.

More than 4,000 food-handlers and truckers at two depots have joined in the walkout and it was feared the strike may spread by Monday to five additional stations. The depot threatened to decrease Britain's supply of food even further.

Authorities said much of the food would be spoiled if it remained at the depots over Sunday.

The depot-workers have also refused to handle luggage of persons leaving London for the week-end. More than 3,500 handlers and truckers are now on strike at major food depots, while half-loaded trucks and piled-up consignments are blocking all movement.

The paralyzing strike hit London when food handlers refused to work after two men were arrested for helping themselves to tomatoes at Bishop's Gate freight station, the city's largest distributing station.

Soon afterwards, workers at the Liverpool street depot joined the walkout and said they intended to stay out until this paltry matter is settled.

OPEN TONIGHT

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD (U.S. Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, July 20.—Dainty June Haver confessed today that Hollywood sometimes amazes her.

At the moment it's because she's playing a 14-year-old girl in a new 20th Century-Fox musical, "Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now."

June sat curled up in the corner of a big couch in her dressing room and laughed about it. She said: "You know the studio first talked to me about a contract when I was 16. But they decided against it because they said I looked too young. "They said that even though I was 16 I looked only 14. "So now that I'm 20 they have me playing a 14-year-old."

Maureen O'Hara has asked for a two months' vacation as soon as she completes "The Home Stretch" so she can visit her parents in Dublin.

Maureen hasn't been back to Ireland since she came to Hollywood just over seven years ago. She tried once before when she had free time but she couldn't get a passport.

"I hope to have better luck this time," Maureen said. "I'm so anxious to see my mother and father. I need a vacation too. The last two years have been pretty tough—doing three technicolor pictures one right after the other.

"Such bright lights are needed for color you have no idea how much it takes out of you.

"Every day when you get home you feel like you've been in a Turkish bath."

Peggy Cummins, who loves horse racing, has just about decided to give it up.

"The trouble is I get too excited," she said. Your reporter almost fell over when he ran into Peggy on the set of "The Late George Apley" and Peggy said she hadn't been out to Hollywood park. Not even once, although the meet has been running seven weeks now.

"I don't seem to have much luck betting anyhow," she said. "So many movie people own horses. You get talking to them and they remark they're going down to put a bet on one of their horses. So you go down and put a bet, too, to be a good sport. Then what happens? The horse runs out and where are you? You're broke."

At the same time Treasurer Black announced total payments of $48,193 for all types of categorical assistance, that is, old-age assistance, aid to dependent children, and pensions for the blind.

Breakdown of these figures shows the following sums paid out during the months of June: Old-age assistance, $26,335; aid to dependent children, $16,550; and pensions for the blind, $5,308.

Two Pickets Hurt; Man Drives Tractor From Struck Plant

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., July 20.—(INS)—John B. Sauder, 26, Waynesboro, R. D. 2 farm hand, was at liberty today under $2,000 bond on charges of aggravated assault and battery after injuring two pickets when he drove a tractor from a strikebound plant at Waynesboro.

Police Chief J. H. Dodson, of Waynesboro, said Sauder drove the tractor, towing a new threshing machine, from the Frick company plant into the picket line Thursday afternoon.

The injured men were James Wetzel, 60, and Ralph Rowe, 41, both of Waynesboro. Wetzel suffered injuries to the left ankle, elbow and right shoulder while Rowe sustained a sprained right knee and ankle bruises.

Eight hundred CIO-UAW workers at the plant have been on strike since June 3 demanding a 22 cents an hour wage increase.

Water strikers, while really aquatic bugs, are structurally more nearly related to the land bugs than to other water bugs.

Nevertheless, there was more editorial cheering than mourning at first. The Weiser Signal-American asserted that merchants are as anxious as consumers to hold prices down—all pledged themselves to hold the price line. And Editor R. M. McIntyre of the Buhl Herald thundered: "Those who may have thought (the veto) would start a price attack on John Public did not reckon with the sound judgment and common sense of the average American businessman."

Editor Harold Smith of the Jerome North Side News was less cheerful, more philosophical. "We hold no brief for OPA," he wrote. "The idea of making saints out of people by law does not seem to work. The USA will live without OPA." And the Sandpoint Bulletin was strictly cagey, saying only that "if merchants throughout the U. S. are as determined to keep prices in line as those of Sandpoint, there need to be no fear of violent inflation."

E. D. Pederson's Genesee News uncompromisingly played both ends against the OPA, minimizing the danger of inflation, but covering that possibility with a blast at ex-Administrator Bowles: "He predicts runaway prices and disaster, but if so, he (Bowles) a promoter of inflationary results by his own remarks and resignation."

So went the press, so went the comments of average persons. None could quite agree. Meanwhile, immediate results of OPA's death or coma further confused the situation.

Farmers and ranchers cheered the upspringing hog and cattle prices. Dairymen said they could again show a profit. Retailers swore they were getting in more and better stocks.

But the Douglas mine west of Kellogg closed because "veto of the OPA bill providing for subsidy payments for production of lead and zinc, made continuation of operations impossible."

And Boise housewives complained that butter already was up five and six cents a pound, milk two cents a quart, beef and pork -- and veal 18 cents a pound!

Chief Quartermaster J. P. Burrell, U. S. Navy recruiter, announced today that the following named men were enlisted in the navy on July 17: Joseph Donald Paolone, New Castle; William Francis Arbanas, James Vincent Sude and Robert Irwin Bell, Greenville; William Francis Harshman, Thomas Ray Hancock and Charles Edward Bear-burn Sharon; Charles Frederick Petteff, and Robert DeWayne Kirk, Franklin.

Paolone graduated from the Senior high school in January, 1946. He participated in track athletics in his junior year.

Entire Nation Is Badly Confused On OPA Extension

BOISE, Idaho—It may only lead to bloodshed, as the saying goes, but for once the elected law-makers of these United States seem to be somewhat actually representing the actual mood of the masses who sent them to Washington.

That is to say, when it comes to permanently settling the fate of OPA, there appears to be proportionately the same amount of confusion, contradiction and conflicting opinion across the country as is currently being kicked around on Capitol Hill.

As the third week of battle rages over OPA's body, it would be exceedingly gratifying at this point to step forward briskly and report whether the average citizen's order to pump blood plasma or embalming fluid into the corpse's veins.

No Agreement

But unfortunately, this roving reporter has come to the reluctant conclusion that it would require a national referendum to resolve that riddle. And even if such a plebiscite were possible, no two groups would agree on how the question should be put.

The barren conclusion is the result of blending the bulk of comments collected in half a dozen western states during the past three weeks.

In Idaho, the situation seems much the same as elsewhere—and why does Idaho think?

Well, State OPA Administrator Walt Lockwood has been standing pat, certain that his job will soon be back there again. His 82 clerks continued to punch the time-clock, but as day succeeded day with no settlement in sight, they began to cast covet glances at other paying positions.

So much for the official employees involved. Elsewhere, the advertising and editorial columns of various state newspapers showed the situation with startling clarity.

In the beginning, merchants leaped on the band-wagon, pledging in advertisements that their "prices will not be increased." They were, however, careful to add in each instance, "except where necessary to cover increased costs."

Concerning their own line of business, most of them expressed delight at OPA's demise. The minority view was that it should be revived, but with drastic alterations. However, strangely shifting their weight to the other side of the scales, almost all merchants agreed that rent ceilings should have been retained!

Newspaper editorial opinion varied. Editor Victor Lemon of the Weidell Irrigator warned: "Just wait and see. Unless another OPA or substitute is enacted, the U. S. is in for one of the greatest periods of inflation it has ever known."

More Cheering

Nevertheless, there was more editorial cheering than mourning at first. The Weiser Signal-American asserted that merchants are as anxious as consumers to hold prices down—all pledged themselves to hold the price line. And Editor R. M. McIntyre of the Buhl Herald thundered: "Those who may have thought (the veto) would start a price attack on John Public did not reckon with the sound judgment and common sense of the average American businessman."

Editor Harold Smith of the Jerome North Side News was less cheerful, more philosophical. "We hold no brief for OPA," he wrote. "The idea of making saints out of people by law does not seem to work. The USA will live without OPA." And the Sandpoint Bulletin was strictly cagey, saying only that "if merchants throughout the U. Splendid Response To Questionnaires Of South Side Board

During the first of the week, about five thousand questionnaires were sent out to residents, business and professional men and women in the south side of New Castle, regarding the necessity of a branch bank in the south side district.

G. C. Snyder, president of the South Side Board of Trade, states that the response to their questionnaires was splendid, and it is expected that the returns will amount to approximately seventy per cent, all of which were favorable.

This showing by the people of the south side, it is believed, will assure the early opening of a branch bank in the district by one of the leading uptown banks.

Paolone graduated from the Senior high school in January, 1946. He participated in track athletics in his junior year.

Not To Share Atomic Secrets At Science Panel

U. S. Not To Disclose Information At UN 12-Nation Panel Of Scientists

NEW YORK, July 20.—(INS)—The United States made it plain Friday that its offer to assist the United Nations Atomic Commission's 12-nation panel of scientists with nuclear information does not include the sharing of atomic secrets.

The panel met for the first time with Dr. Richard C. Tolman representing the United States. Prof. H. H. Kramers of the Netherlands was elected chairman.

The United States made public a statement by Bernard M. Baruch, head of the American delegation, in which he offered the services of "suitable experts who could contribute technical and organizational facts on which the United States' proposals have been based." Baruch added:

"It is not contemplated that, in these discussions, further information now held as secret would be disclosed."

"On the other hand, it is believed that a careful organization and explanation of material now available would be helpful in creating understanding of the proposals and in establishing procedures of collective discussion and agreement which may be useful later."

Baruch's statement amplified his declaration at the first atomic commission session that the United States would furnish such information as was necessary so the delegates would understand what they were discussing.

Expect 60,000 At Legion Convention

PHILADELPHIA, July 20.—(INS)—American Legion officials announced today that more than 60,000 delegates, including 5,000 women members of auxiliary posts, are expected to attend the 28th annual American Legion State convention in Philadelphia August 21-25.

Rules Separated Hubby Should Know Where His Wife Is

PHILADELPHIA, July 20.—(INS)—The Superior Court of Pennsylvania in an opinion by Judge William E. Hirt, Friday ruled that a husband has a right to know the whereabouts of his wife while they are separated.

The case before the Superior Court was an appeal by Adeline Knode, of Pittsburgh, from the Court of Common Pleas of Westmoreland county where her husband, John J. Knode, of New Alexandria, was granted a divorce.

Knode won his divorce action on October 2, 1944, on the charges of indignities and desertion. He filed his suit on April 22, 1944.

"Somewhere" in City
The wife lived "somewhere" in Pittsburgh, but the husband was unable to locate her. He was permitted to make service by advertising notice of the suit being filed.

On December 15, 1944, the wife appeared in the Westmoreland county tribunal and petitioned for a reopening of the case. The Lower Court refused and this action is sustained by the Superior Court.

Judge Hirt in his opinion says, "The undisputed facts indicate libellant exhausted every available source of information in a bona fide effort to locate respondent."

"Throughout the separation, she was entitled to this information, to check her conduct and changed circumstances which might have affected his liability to support her. She has not advanced a single reason for withholding the information from him. We agree with the Lower Court that her conduct charges her with a purposeful concealment."

WHISKEY RATIONING
HARRISBURG, July 20.—(INS)—The forty-third whiskey rationing period was scheduled today by the State Liquor Control Board to begin July 29 and continue through August 17.

Consumers will be entitled to a fifth of a gallon of whiskey during the three-week period upon presentation of ration book number three or a substitute card, the board reported.

Allocations to licensees will be 80 per cent of normal, it added. The current period will end July 27.

ALL TAX CARDS OUT

All county tax cards have been mailed to taxpayers. County Treasurer Frank W. Hill said Friday. The last card went into the mail late Thursday night and taxpayers have until the close of business July 31 to pay their taxes at a discount.

This year a card is sent for every piece of property. If you own 50 vacant lots somewhere in the county you get 50 tax cards. In returning their taxes some taxpayers have sent a check for the total but did not return the cards. This entails a lot of needless work upon the treasurer's office. Taxpayers are asked to enclose the cards with their checks.

In all, approximately 60,000 cards went out of the treasurer's office to taxpayers in the county. Many of them were for occupational tax only and a host of them are coming back due to changes in addresses.

SENTENCE FOUR

Four men who pleaded to charges against them, were sentenced on Friday morning by Judge John G. Lamoree.

E. E. Duffy, driving while intoxicated, was fined $100 and costs, 30 days in the county jail, out in three days if the fine and costs are paid.

Similar sentences for the same charge were given William Dallas Smith and Dan V. Cunningham.

David Upshaw, plea to voting illegally, was fined $1 and costs, placed on probation for one year and his right to vote cancelled for four years. He was charged with voting in the second precinct of the eighth ward, when he had removed his residence to another precinct.

The four-year disfranchisement is mandatory under the elections code.

Chicago Hospital To Build Betatron For Probing Cancer

CHICAGO, July 20.—(INS)—Dr. Erich Uhlmann, director of the Tumor Clinic at Chicago's Michael Reese hospital, announced Friday that a $5 million volt betatron will be built for the hospital for use in cancer research and other radio-therapeutic.

Dr. Uhlmann said the bullet-like free beam of the betatron, intended originally for the study of atomic power, can reach deep-seated tumors without damaging surrounding tissue. He added, however, that its value in the treatment of human cancer will not be determined for three to five years.

The betatron electrons in a concentrated beam penetrate without harming healthy tissue and attack cancerous or tumorous growths—something X-ray or radium cannot do it was explained.

The betatron was developed at the University of Illinois.

Lions Endorse Examination Of U. S. Education

In Accord With Truman Plan To Probe System Of Nation; Other Points Made

PHILADELPHIA, July 20.—(INS)—The Lions International meeting in Philadelphia, Friday endorsed President Truman's plan to re-examine the education system of the country through appointment of a national education commission.

The Lions also called for instruction in the Spanish language to primary school pupils in English speaking countries, and vice versa.

Other resolutions called for:

1. Continued support by the Lions of all youth activities, youth centers and youth campaigns in an effort to hold down juvenile delinquency to a minimum.

2. Establishment of June 26 of each year as an internationally observed sacred day to memorialize peace. The date suggested is the anniversary of the signing of the United Nations charter.

3. Establishment by each Lions club of community committees to safeguard the people's wartime savings, by urging the retention of war bonds and checking up on alleged "schemers."

4. Creation of a Lions International foundation for sight conservation to provide financial endowment for pushing specific research projects on the causes of blindness and methods of eliminating them.

5. The immediate launching in congress of legislation to make Hawaii the 49th state.

GESTAPO LOOT OF $4,000,000 FOUND IN REICH

LONDON, July 20.—(INS)—A Reuters dispatch from Herford, Germany, reported Friday that military authorities had discovered a cache of Gestapo loot valued at one million pounds sterling (four million dollars).

The treasure trove, including jewels of fabulous value and a large quantity of negotiable bonds, was discovered near Luneberg. Military government officials said it represented loot confiscated from all sections of Europe during Nazism's heyday.

The cache was found in a cellar and consisted of hundreds of boxes. After it is appraised correctly, the treasure will be taken to Hanover where it eventually will be returned to its lawful owners.

June '41 Committee Sets Reunion Date

Reunion of the members of the New Castle High School class of June '41 will take place on Sunday, August 25, at a place to be announced later, according to a decision made by the committee Friday evening.

Organizing the reunion, 14 members of the class and the Class supervisor, Miss Bernice Barrett, at the home of Miss Dorothy Devlin on Croton avenue. Sub-committees appointed by class president Earl Carr included: food committee—Alice DiCarlo, Nancy Stitzinger, Comstock, Joe Audino, Doris Heitich, and Paul Rice.

Entertainment—Tom Middleton, Louis Micco, Eugene Alibelli, Sally Lou Rowland, Bill Alexander, and Bill McClelland. Reservations—Don Devlin, Genevieve Burgo, and Ruth Bradford; transportation—Bill Comstock, Dave Strick, Nick Papadakis, Andy Harcar, Dick Hite, and Clair Galbreath.

Letters are being sent out to members of the class, and reservations must be in by August 17. The reunion will begin at 3 o'clock, with the group meeting in front of the senior high school where transportation will be available for everyone.

COURTESY OF THE ROAD MEANS EXACTLY THAT

That truck ahead of you has more than just a license tag on it. There's another tag that reads "Courtesy of the Road to You". It's a P. M. T. A. tag and it means exactly what it says. PMTA drivers believe in that slogan, but more, they practice it.

As you approach the top of a hill, back of a truck, if the driver waves you on, you'll know he's a P. M. T. A. driver nine times out of ten.

Courtesy costs so little and pays off so well. But the tag isn't a boast, it's a guarantee to you that the man behind the wheel is a trained, competent driver who is ready to help the other fellow whenever he can.

U. S. Not To Disclose Information At UN 12-Nation Panel Of Scientists

NEW YORK, July 20.—(INS)—The United States made it plain Friday that its offer to assist the United Nations Atomic Commission's 12-nation panel of scientists with nuclear information does not include the sharing of atomic secrets.

The panel met for the first time with Dr. Richard C. Tolman representing the United States. Prof. H. H. Kramers of the Netherlands was elected chairman.

Rules Separated Hubby Should Know Where His Wife Is

PHILADELPHIA, July 20.—(INS)—The Superior Court of Pennsylvania in an opinion by Judge William E. Hirt, Friday ruled that a husband has a right to know the whereabouts of his wife while they are separated.

The case before the Superior Court was an appeal by Adeline Knode, of Pittsburgh, from the Court of Common Pleas of Westmoreland county where her husband, John J. Knode, of New Alexandria, was granted a divorce.

Knode won his divorce action on October 2, 1944, on the charges of indignities and desertion. He filed his suit on April 22, 1944.

Dodgers Win From Reds And Tie Cards For Lead

Cards-Phillies Are Washed Out, Braves Top Cubs

Brooklyn Ties Cards Momentarily, Rookie Hurler Tames Cubs

BOSTON RED SOX INCREASE LEAD

NEW YORK, July 20.—(INS)—The Brooklyn Dodgers are back in six-run lead over the Cincinnati Reds in the National League today thanks to the pitching of the rookie hurler, who pitched a perfect game.

The Dodgers have claimed for weeks that the arbiters have admitted that they all the close ones against the Brooklyn because of the "rookie's" "ferocious" "gentleman" always are ready to argue at the drop of a hat.

Reese Gets Mud

In the seventh inning of yesterday's game with Cincinnati, Pee Wee Reese of Brooklyn got so mad at a questionable called strike which he belted a two-run triple which sparked the Dodgers to an 8 to 4 victory.

In the eighth inning, Reese showed his temper with the old reliable Dixie Walker, who belted a home, double and single, and good relief pitching by Hugh Casey.

Old Jupe Plutis came into the picture a few hours later when he pitched after three innings, thereby preventing St. Louis from regaining undisputed possession of first place.

Rookie Beats Cubs

Warren Spahn, left shoulder of the Boston Braves, held Chicago's Cubs to six hits and beat them 6 to 1.

The Braves are faltering again after making what looked like a serious bid for the pennant.

In the American League, the Boston Red Sox increased their lead over the New York Yankees to 11½ games by taking a wild contest from the Chicago White Sox, 9 to 2.

After a verbal argument over whether pitcher Joe Haynes of Chicago tried to dust off Ted Williams with a bean ball, umpire Red Jones chased 14 Chicago players and coaches off the field.

Seery Hits Two

The winning pitcher was Bill Seery, Yankee castoff who racked up his third triumph against no-hitters.

The Yanks sure could use Bill now.

Pat Seery, the lantern-jawed Cleveland outfielder who earlier belted his 15th and 16th homers as Cleveland swamped the Athletics, 6 to 1.

Pat's first homer came with the bases loaded.

In the only other game played, Detroit defeated Washington, 10 to 5.

Joe Tepic, new acquisition of the Brooklyn Dodgers, played football and baseball at Penn State.

Taylor Is Given Fight Decision

Coalport, Pa., Welterweight Defeats New York's Tony Pellone

NEW YORK, July 20.—(INS)—Tony Pellone, New York welterweight who had been awarded questionable decisions in five recent bouts, today found himself holding the other end of the stick.

Pellone rallied strongly in the closing rounds of his ten-rounder with Chuck Taylor, of Coalport, Pa., at Madison Square Garden last night, but the officials gave the fight to Taylor, a 5 to 12 favorite, by a close margin.

Taylor had piled up a commanding margin in the first half of the bout.

A crowd of 6,607 paid $21,350 to see the fight.

Lee Avenue Field Mecca For City League Fans, Ryan-town-Dukes 12:30

COLUMBUS CLUB AT SOUTH HILLS

Lee Avenue baseball field on the West Side will be the mecca Sunday for countless hundreds of City League baseball fans for the American Legion and West Side Tigers battle.

Manager Len Hilbert has his Tigers all pepped up for this big game, and is confident that his team will come through victorious over the rampaging Legion. Either Wayne Carpenter of no-hit fame, or Smed Pyle will do the Tigers' chugging, with Manager Frank (Sheriff) Coen undecided who will throw for the Legion.

The Columbus club runners-up to the Universals for the league lead, will be at the South Hill field for a game with the South Hillers, managed by Joe Augustine.

The Seventh Warders are anxious to win this one and stay at the top of the heap. Dean is slated for mound duty by Manager Joe Frigione, with South Hill expected to start Stroia.

A big crowd will no doubt see this game also.

Ryantown and Duca D'Abuzzis game at Marshall field has been scheduled for 12:30 o'clock owing to a Ryan-town picnic Sunday.

It was announced, The Moose club will play the Sons of Italy at Deshon Annex. The West Pittsburgh "Gas House Gang" will play the Lawrence Indies at Cedar Street.

All Sunday games except the Ryan-town-Dukes will start at 3 o'clock.

Wampum Victors In Heated Game

WAMPUM, July 20.—Wampum won a game here last night against New Castle which was called at the end of the fifth frame when the Hot Tops refused to resume play.

A heated argument arose between the Tops and the umpires and after giving the Guzzetti club a three-minute ultimatum the officials called the game and the win went to the league-leading Legion.

The final score was 5-0.

Frank J. Powell, hurler for the Legion and held the Tops to three hits during the five innings. Evans was on the rubber for the Hot Tops. Emil Fontana walloped a home run for the winners.

STATE GAME COMMISSION has announced that applications to hunt antlered deer in six eastern counties during a special season, December 9-14, will not be accepted before October 1.

Charles James, who will referee Taggart stadium bouts Thursday, has announced his intention of donating his pay to the recreation fund.

Bill Pozza, Elwood City, will box Bob Binding of Pittsburgh, at Rochester, Pa., Tuesday night. Forrest Griggs, Longview, Texas, weighs 315 pounds. He will play tackle on the Buffalo Bison's next fall. Ted Grabinski, Ambrose, and Al Wukts, Pittsburgh, former Duquesne centers, will center for the Bison's. One hundred and fifty-three softball teams have entered the state amateur tournament according to Commissioner Edward Ward. The men's finals will be held in Erie, August 24-25.

Russell Baxter will box Mike Berskovich at Youngstown, August 10.

Bob Stewart will be in charge of school police at Taggart stadium, Thursday night. A flock of city bluecoats and detectives also will be present. Traffic cops will direct traffic and guard autos at the stadium.

V. P. W. No. 25, East Washington street, met Thursday night and loaned, free, to the civic committee in charge of the picnic percent 500 folding chairs. This was appreciated much. They will be used by ring-siders.

Kiwans club of Beaver Falls will hold a horse show Friday and Saturday at the H. W. Marshall Pleasant Valley farm. It is a recognized show of the Interstate Horshoe Association.

There are some choice ring-side and reserve seats left for the picnic whorls Thursday. They may be had by telephoning 1257 and general admission duets may be procured by telephoning 2786.

There are no "name" players in the incoming class at West Point, according to Earl Blaik.

Pistol Tourney At Farm Sunday

Six Cities Will Compete In Western Penn-Eastern Ohio One-Day Shoot

New Castle Revolver club will be host Sunday at the Sportsman Farm at the Harbor to the Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio Pistol League at a one-day tourney.

The tourney will start at 3 o'clock. Six cities will compete, including New Castle. It was announced by Secretary William McKee of the local club today.

The competing cities are Youngstown, Warren, Girard, Ravenna, Sharon and New Castle. The public is invited to witness these matches free of charge. This is the seventh tourney of the year, one having been held recently at Warren, O.

New Castle recently went to Sharon for a league match and won by a total of 1219 to 1221 with the following locals shooting on the team: Charles Schweinsburg high man for the entire match with a 269 out of a 269 possible, Tebay 212, McKee 167, Giordano 238 and Beck 233. High man for Sharon was Ray with a 263 string.

Castlewood Wins 16-3 Over Tigers

Castlewood put on quite a show for the home fans last night as they tore the side off the ball in a lopsided 16-3 victory over the last-place Edenburg Tigers.

The Sanders team scored no less than 10 tallies in the first inning, nine of them off starting pitcher Pete Chiero on eight hits. J. Susany came to the hill after this disastrous beginning and pitched the rest of the game.

Through all this canning Harold Johns sailed in with a four hit effort for his fourth win of the season against an equal number of losses.

Box score:

Association Chief Upheld On Protest, Loses Liebold Case

COLUMBUS, O., July 20.—(INS)—American Association President H. Roy Hamey was batting 500 today on the validity of recent controversial decisions.

Association directors, meeting at Indianapolis, unanimously upheld Hamey's refusal to allow a protest by St. Paul involving the Indians' use of pitcher Jim Wallace. St. Paul claimed Wallace was ineligible, because he had not been properly waived out of the National League.

President W. G. Bramham of the National Association, however, overruled Hamey and suspended Manager Harry Liebold of Louisville for the balance of the season. Liebold was charged with assaulting former umpire Forrest Peters on June 16. He had been fined $100 by Hamey and suspended for five days.

Colonel officials indicated they would appeal to the minor league executive committee. Baseball Commissioner A. A. Chandler has no jurisdiction in the case.

Brookers Annex Close 11-10 Win

East Brook took a thrilling 11-10 game from the Nashua nine at the latter's diamond Thursday evening.

Smith, started on the hill for the "Brooks" but was relieved by Mendel Blew who finished the game. Joe Braho stated the pitching parade for the Nashua club, being relieved by Hill in the sixth and Paul Braho coming to the mound in the seventh.

Kuth, B. Reynolds and H. Reynolds did the heavy clotting for the "Brookers". The Rattvasky brothers swatted him runs for the Nashua cause.

New Wilmington Blasts Union, 14-1

New Wilmington continued as the class of the North County loop as they blasted out a 14-1 win over the Union Civics at the Scotland Lane field last night.

Krakowski hurled a three-hit game for the loop-pacers, while Mescall, Peterson and Barber trooped to the rubber for the Civics.

Cardinals Swamp West Side Team

North Hill Cardinals had a field day at the expense of the West Side Juniors, new entry in the American Legion Junior league, who haven't gotten their sea legs yet, winning by a score of 20-2, with M. Altman hurling a two-hitter.

Waters and M. Altman had triples, and H. Altman a double for the victors.

The score: R. H. E.
West Side 2 0 11 2
Cardinals 20 2 0 0

Batteries: West Side, Avers, Hammond and Harper and Hetrick; Cardinals, M. Altman and H. Altman.

Vets Torpedo Hillsville, 7-2

ELLWOOD CITY, July 20.—Ellwood V.F.W. club took the measure of the Hillsville Indies here last night in a County league scrap, 7-2.

Bob Penwell did the flunking for the Hillers with Gail McCready on the hill for the Vets.

Sports Fallacies

By MARGERY MILLER
(Central Press Sports Writer)

The way to catch the most fish is not to head immediately for the best fishing hole in a stream.

Many fishermen, knowing that fish haunt a particular deep hole, wade out to it immediately and start to fish it. They do not realize that in so doing they ruin the water through which they pass for fishing, since it will not clear and again attract fish for several hours afterward.

Moreover, they lessen their chances of catching fish in the hole. The funny ones which are in shallow water are frightened into the hole by the approach of the angler. Their fright upon reaching the hole is communicated to the other fish, which consequently become very wary.

A dead horse can be credited with a better performance in a race than a healthy one which finishes.

This fact recently was established at a major track where a horse named Tindell dropped dead on the last turn while the rest of the field thundered by to finish. The last nag to cross the finish line was Llanero, which came in 13th. Because Llanero had wheeled at the start and run without spirit all the way, Tindell was credited with the 13th spot, and Llanero was pushed back to 14th.

Officials figured that a dead horse which tried was deserving of better treatment than a live one which loafed.

Complains He Had To Take Honeymoon Trip Without Bride

CAMDEN, N. J., July 20.—(INS)—A Camden man who had just returned today that he had to go on his honeymoon alone.

George M. Stevenson, seeking a divorce from his wife, Ernestine E. of Newark, N. J., testified that his wife left him only a few hours after their marriage.

Stevenson said that when he suggested to his wife that the reception following the wedding that it was time for them to leave on their honeymoon, she replied:

"No—I'm going home to my father. I don't want to go away."

And that, Stevenson said, was in 1934 and Mrs. Stevenson, despite many pleadings, has not yet returned to him. The divorce was recommended.

Hobbies Displayed At Dean Park Also

Dean park playground's collection of hobbies this week showed much time and work on the part of the young hobbyists who displayed them.

The "most outstanding" hobby was Tom Murphy's collection of war relics, varying from small dinner utensils to huge knives. "Most valuable" prize went to Fred Yauverella who displayed very old and beautiful clothing, including tiny shoes and huge robes. The "most useful" prize was given to Frank Patterson for his array of wearing apparel.

Honorable mention was given to Don Largo, Jerry Naples for his stamp collection and Tony Giangulli for his collection of important clippings.

Next Wednesday will be the day for the model airplane show. Miss Dorothy Naples, is the director of the playground activities. Judges for the hobby show were Babe Alfiero and Amelio Russo.

WHILE fellow townsfolk at Gravesend, Kent, England, ceremoniously burned a 30-foot whaleboat to celebrate an ancient rite in the seaside resort, this couple indulged in a much older custom. Spectators enjoyed both displays. (International)

Bridges Denies Quitting As CIO Regional Chief

WASHINGTON, July 20.—(INS)—Harry Bridges, president of the CIO longshoremen's union, denied Friday that he had submitted his resignation as a CIO regional director in California.

Previously, the West Coast labor leader declined to comment on reports that he had quit in protest against CIO President Philip Murray's decision to split California into two districts with southern and northern regional directors.

Dunne today's meeting of the CIO executive board, Bridges told reporters:

"I have not submitted my resignation as CIO regional director in California. It has been discussed all over the lot in dope stories, but I have not discussed it with anyone here."

Murray announced the subdivision of California into two CIO districts to obtain more efficient administration and said he expected Bridges to stay on as northern regional director.

A regional director for Southern California is yet to be named. The exact boundaries of the two districts also have not yet been defined.

BRAKEMAN HURT

HARRISBURG, July 20.—(INS)—Harry Schoffstall, 41, of Harrisburg, a Pennsylvania Railroad brakeman, was in a serious condition at the Harrisburg hospital today with injuries suffered in a fall from an engine at Enola.

Schoffstall, who suffered a punctured lung and several rib fractures, was discovered lying beside the railroad tracks by fellow crewmen.

Russians Agree We Should Keep A-Bomb Secrets

NEW YORK, July 20.—(INS)—The Soviet Union agreed with the United States Friday that American atomic secrets of a secret military nature should not be divulged now.

Soviet delegate Andrei A. Gromyko, who has been fighting for an immediate exchange of atomic information at sessions of the United Nations atomic energy commission, made his statement at a closed session of the commission's 12-nation panel of scientific experts, Gromyko said.

"Nobody is asking for secrets. There is no conflict with the United States position."

He said that, on the contrary, what is "necessary and right for discussion" is the exchange of information which would hasten the development of atomic energy for purely peaceful uses.

He said that what he wants is "well within the framework" of the stipulation by Bernard M. Baruch, head of the American atomic delegation, Baruch said that "it is not contemplated that, in these discussions, further information now held as secret would be disclosed."

Gromyko made a brief fight to have Prof. S. Pienkowski of Poland named co-chairman of the committee of scientists and experts. Pienkowski, former president of the underground Warsaw University during the Nazi occupation, now is a Polish observer at the A-bomb tests at Bikini.

Connally Calls For Policy Of Armed Watchful Waiting

WASHINGTON, July 20.—(INS)—Sen. Tom Connally (D-Tex.) Senate foreign relations committee chairman, today called upon the United States to work "tenaciously" for peace but to maintain, meanwhile, a policy of armed "watchful waiting."

Connally told the Senate, in a report of the results of the recent foreign ministers' meeting in Paris, that while the U. S. must be "tenaciously attached to peace," it "must not and shall not neglect . . . national defense."

The senator, an adviser to Secretary of State Byrnes at the "Big Four" foreign ministers' meeting, expressed the belief that "no other responsible nation," including Russia, "wants war."

Connally stated: "So long as the great powers co-operate in support of the (United Nations) charter, so long as they recognize and respect the rights of each other, so long will there be peace."

Meanwhile, he added, the U. S. must maintain its armed might unimpaired.

THREE WAYS TO CONTROL MOSQUITOES

Stagnant pools or rain barrels are good breeding places for mosquitoes, and draining them will go a long way in eliminating the mosquito nuisance.

If these pools cannot be drained, temporary control may be obtained by treating them with a mixture of equal parts of kerosene and old crankcase oil, or a solution of three parts of fuel oil to one of kerosene. These treatments must be repeated after every rain.

In addition, it may be necessary to spray the vegetation around the outside of the house and barn, the porch and its furniture with a DDT solution, using one-half pound of wettable 50 per cent DDT powder in 10 gallons of water, or one pint of the liquid miscible 25 to 30 per cent DDT in 10 gallons of water.

Repellents, of which there are several on the market, will give temporary protection from mosquitoes. However, DDT, a poison, must not be applied to the person.

Farm Safety Week Observance Asked

Governor And Agriculture Extension Bureau Emphasize Need For Farm Safety

Gov. Edward Martin made an urgent appeal this week to Pennsylvania's farmers to observe farm safety week, July 21-27, by "checking all accident hazards and removing them as soon as possible."

Here in Lawrence county, L. C. Dayton of the Agriculture Extension office, says, "There are a number of serious farm accidents each year. Many result in some person being seriously maimed for life or killed."

In view of the fact that there have been so many serious farm accidents locally it is suggested that the farmer co-operate with Governor Martin's plans for farm safety week 100 per cent.

Even though agriculture is considered a potentially dangerous occupation, most accidents are the direct result of carelessness. In some cases it is the results of not keeping the machinery in condition or tools in the proper place.

It is the failure to repair stairways, floors or electrical fixtures. Some pieces of equipment are not adequately guarded. In some places the machine cannot be guarded, in others the manufacturer's guard has been removed to repair a part and not replaced.

Of the more serious injuries, most result from careless handling of machinery and animals, falls and fires. In numerous cases children, women and old men are operating equipment that normally would be run by more mature or stronger men who are in the service or have entered industry. Since most farmers are compelled to work alone, when an accident occurs there is no one around to give assistance.

Efforts to reduce farm accidents are particularly vital this year because of the critical need for more food. On the farm, it is largely up to the individual to prevent accidents by removing hazards and learning safety measures.

Slippery Rock Airman's Death Details Revealed

Find Body Of Missing Sergeant Washed Ashore In France After Fatal Leap

SLIPPERY ROCK, July 20.—Details of the death of S-Sgt. Curtis L. Christley, reported as missing in action in Europe for the past three years, were revealed by the mother of the airman, Mrs. C. O. Christley.

War department reports say that Christley's body was washed ashore near Stella-Plage, six miles north of Berck-sur-mer, France, January 23, 1944, and that the body was buried in a cemetery there.

Information was secured from captured German records, the war department revealed.

Andy Smerick of Cleveland, O., on the plane with Christley at the time of the ill-fated flight over the English Channel, December 9, 1943, recently visited Mrs. Christley and gave her the details of the airman's death.

The plane encountered sleet and heavy weather during the flight and being at high altitude the controls froze. The pilot ordered the crew to jump and Sgt. Christley was the second man to leave the ship. Shortly after, however the plane entered a warm pocket, control was gained and the order to leap rescinded.

It is believed that Christley and co-pilot Jesse Watson of Oklahoma, the two men to leave the plane, were frozen immediately due to the extreme temperature.

Bar Photographer From Showing Nudes

CHICAGO, July 20.—(INS)—William Bartlett, 29, a bus dispatcher and amateur photographer, was enjoined today from showing his favorite pimps, the nude pictures of his estranged wife, Verna, also 29.

The court order was issued by Joseph Sabath on the complaint of Mrs. Bartlett who said he snatched the pictures of her before he entered the army.

Bartlett also was enjoined from beating his wife who is suing for divorce on the charge of cruelty.
